'New' VC Peace Offer Appears Same Old Thing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Cong's "new" eight-point peace plan has a familiar and unacceptable look to Washington officials.

Under the enemy offer, presented in Paris Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Nguyen Thi Binh, Saigon's Thieu-Ky government would be replaced and the United States would have to promise to get its troops out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

In return, the Viet Cong would refrain from attacking the withdrawing allied troops and would discuss future peace arrangements including release of prisoners.

U.S. authorities here and in Paris have agreed to scan the Binh proposal carefully for any possible new openings. But in general, they said, it appears to be a rehash of past offers.

Although a Viet Cong spokesman said the plan contains new points, the text received here showed Mrs. Binh herself described the material only as an elaboration of the Viet Cong's previous 10-point proposal.

Officials here noted the enemy already had proposed a time limit for U.S. withdrawals. Last December the enemy offered a six-month limit.

The 10-point plan and other North Vietnamese-Viet Cong proposals have provided for negotiating a prisoner release after the fighting ends. And ouster of the Thieu-Ky regime is standard fare in enemy demands.

U.S. officials said the American ambassador at the Paris peace talks, David K. E. Bruce, is willing to talk with Hanoi-Viet Cong envoys about any point they may put forward as part of unconditional discussions.

But the United States, they said, will not accept such demands as conditions for the beginning of serious peace negotiations.

Thus, the prospect for progress toward a negotiated end to the Vietnam war does not appear any brighter now than when the Paris talks began 2½ years ago.

Nixon Says U.N. Must Shape Up

CHICAGO (AP) — A Republican congressman quotes President Nixon as saying the United Nations must show its usefulness or continue to lose the public esteem necessary for its support.

Rep. Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois said the President made his remark at a conference Thursday with leaders of Polish-American organizations.

A special White House commission reported recently that the United Nations had become little more than a debating society, but Nixon did not comment at that time.

Nixon said the organization should, besides playing a peace-keeping role, be a forum for solving such worldwide problems as air and water pollution, Derwinski reported.

If the United Nations could exercise influence on environmental pollution, some other problems might become more soluble, the President was said to have told the group.

Public opinion polls have shown that American confidence in the United Nations, now in its 25th year, is waning, Nixon is reported to have said.

Calling Officer Pig Can Bring Arrests

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Any one who calls a Toledo policeman a "pig" or makes "oink, oink" sounds at him is subject to arrest under a new city ordinance prohibiting verbal abuse of lawmen.

City Safety Director Clifford Quinn ordered officers in a special message Thursday to make arrests for violations. Conviction can bring a maximum sentence of 30 days in jail and a $50 fine.

Penn Central Wants To Duck State Taxes

Would Hurt Ohio School Systems, Bring Emergency

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — William H. Moore, the new president of the Penn Central Transportation Co., indicated Thursday that the railroad's hope of getting out of debt depends upon not paying taxes for several years.

Moore, who took over the presidency last month on a five-year contract calling for $165,000 a year, said at a news conference in Cleveland that "My goal is to have Penn Central running in the black in four or five years."

Under questioning, he admitted that his goal depended on not paying taxes owed.

Penn Central owes $5.3 million in back taxes to 59 counties in the state. It pays $85 million a year in taxes throughout the nation. It has asked a U.S. District Court judge in Philadelphia to allow it to defer payment of taxes.

An assistant to Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown appeared at a hearing in Philadelphia Thursday to argue the state's case for collection of taxes.

Ohio is one of 12 states arguing against the tax deferment, which affects the budgets of school systems and governments.

Moore said by the term "black ink" he meant the railroad would show a profit in its profit and loss operating statement four to five years from now. He added that "black ink" did not take into consideration payment of back taxes.

Merchant Fleet Gets Transfusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved legislation which would give America's floundering merchant fleet an estimated $1 billion transfusion over the next decade.

The measure, passed 68-1 on a roll call vote Thursday, would authorize the construction of 300 ships in the next ten years. It also would give all shippers certain tax deferment privileges now enjoyed by only 13 federally subsidized shippers operating in foreign trade. The money saved would be used to build new ships.

The bill now goes to a conference with the House to iron out differences. The House passed a similar version earlier this year.

The bill permits continued operation of the river steamboat Delta Queen, the only stern-wheel passenger vessel with overnight accommodations operating in the United States. The provision exempts the Queen from a 1966 law that requires passenger vessels of more than 100 tons to be built of fire retardant material.

The Queen travels the Mississippi, Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

High Court Eyes Flag Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is headed into an emotional controversy over the American flag.

Two appeals from New York awaiting the justices' return next month provide pivotal tests of efforts to shield the flag from scorn or even use by radicals.

Historically, the flag has been an object of veneration for fervent patriots. But it's also been used as a political banner, as a call to arms, a symbol of injustice and as a target of mockery.

The question confronting the court is whether Americans can be sent to prison because of the way they use the flag.

In one case, the owner of a Madison Avenue art gallery, Stephen Radich, was convicted for exhibiting seven constructions by Marc Morrel, an artist and war protester who displayed the flag as a male sex organ. Radich was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

In the second case, four Long Island women and two organizations opposed to the Vietnam war have been threatened with prosecution by Nassau County District Atty. William Cahn for superimposing the traditional peace symbol upon a representation of the flag.

Ky May Reconsider U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration officials say Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky may now be reconsidering his visit to the United States to attend a "march for victory" rally here next month.

The opposition of key Republican and Democratic senators on both sides of the Vietnam war issue is expected to be a persuasive dissuade.

In addition Vietnamese friends of the vice president have been advising him the situation is not favorable at this time for a U.S. visit under the auspices of the Rev. Carl McIntyre, a fundamentalist radio preacher.

Adopting something of a "don't-call-us, we'll call you" attitude, officials were vague about the Ky visit. According to one knowledgeable source, the Ky visit has been left dangling.

"We still have had no formal application saying that he is coming and requesting appropriate consideration," explained one official.

State Department officials have taken pains neither to welcome the visit nor denounce it. Instead they are looking the other way, obviously hoping Ky would not make an appearance here that could sharpen opposition to the Vietnamization program.

McIntyre flew to Saigon last weekend to persuade Ky to stand up under what he called pressure from the White House and State Department to stay away from the Oct. 3 rally designed to encourage support for an all-out military effort in Vietnam.

Meanwhile, Senate critics, who include supporters of the Nixon policy, were explicit in condemning the trip.

In a strongly worded speech, Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said Thursday Ky's acceptance of McIntyre's invitation can only intensify U.S. dissent over the war.

U.S. Planning No Military Excursions In Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid repeated high-level statements of concern for the safety of Americans in Jordan, officials continue to say there are no plans now for U.S. military intervention in the Mideast.

The State Department expressed deep concern for Americans and other hostages held in Jordan. But, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Thursday, "I will not speculate on what may or may not be required."

"There are no plans for United States military intervention, but I am not going to get into statements of total self-denial," McCloskey told a news conference. "Obviously we're facing a very serious situation."

President Nixon, speaking to newly naturalized U.S. citizens in Chicago, said all Americans "are entitled to the protection of the American government, and they will have it every place in the world."

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon wants it understood that "those who hold American citizens as hostages will be held responsible for their safety."

McCloskey said about 40 U.S. government employees are in Jordan, along with about 350 other Americans, including some who married Jordanian citizens.

Arab guerrillas still are holding 54 hostages, including some Americans, who were taken in a series of airline hijackings.

One unconfirmed report said the hostages are being held outside the area where heavy fighting between guerrillas and King Hussein's army broke out Thursday.

But McCloskey said the State Department has been given no information on the status of the hostages.

He said Hussein has not asked U.S. assistance in fighting the guerrillas but declined to speculate on the response to any future request.

Nixon To Promise Israelis Aid If They Resume Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reportedly was prepared today to promise Israeli Premier Golda Meir extensive new economic aid and continuing military assistance, while urging her to end promptly her boycott of Middle East peace talks.

The plain-spoken 72-year-old Israeli leader went into today's round of talks with Nixon and other high U.S. officials expected to emphasize her government's dissatisfaction over American failure to demand that Egypt roll back missile bases deployed near the Suez Canal in alleged violation of the military standstill agreement sponsored by the United States.

Against the background of new Middle East turmoil centered in Jordan, Mrs. Meir was scheduled to meet Secretary of State William P. Rogers at the State Department. That meeting was to be followed by a White House conference with President Nixon, who returned to Washington Thursday night following a two-day visit to Kansas and Chicago.

U.S. officials hoped Nixon's fresh assurance of support would be sufficient to offset Mrs. Meir's concern that Israel had been placed at a severe military disadvantage on the Suez front since the cease-fire went into effect Aug. 8. She has refused to let her representatives engage in preliminary peace exchanges with Arab envoys at the United Nations because of the missile issue.

The United States has backed Israel's charge that Egypt has violated the military-standstill accord which is part of the cease-fire agreement. Washington has called on Egypt and Russia, which supplies the anti-aircraft missiles, to "rectify" the deployment.

But the Nixon administration has refused to say what "rectification" means, and officials here see no prospect that the new anti-aircraft emplacements will be pulled back from the cease-fire zone.

OEA Gives Loans To Jobless Teachers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Education Association said today it is providing interest-free loans to educators in New Carlisle-Bethel School District in Clark County where school opening has been delayed due to lack of funds. Schools are to open Oct. 19.

The teachers organization made arrangements to advance the teachers a loan equal to the amount of pay they normally would have received if the schools had been operating.

Black Panther Headquarters Is Stormed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A policeman was shot to death at point-blank range in his patrol car early today and the slaying touched off a six-hour siege by police against snipers in a building housing a Black Panther headquarters.

One armed teen-ager was critically wounded in the ensuing exchange of gunfire as he fled the building. Others who fled fired on police from nearby buildings.

One man was arrested and charged with the policeman's death.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier disturbance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner. Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead is Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro inner city area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car, said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officers' head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscannon.

In the ensuing gunfire several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

They found the building empty.

Officers identified the wounded youth as Troy Montgomery 16. They said he came out of the building with a rifle in his hand and a bandolier of ammunition over his shoulder.

Police were uncertain how many persons had been in the building and fled during the siege.

John Melvin McClellan was arrested nearby shortly afterwards and charged with Miscannon's murder.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects the Panthers took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said. "I have a little reason to believe that but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Shortly before midnight Wednesday about 20 Negroes wearing Black Panther emblems including women turned up at police headquarters demanding the release of James Dotson.

Police said Dotson was jailed Wednesday night for resisting arrest when traffic warrants were served on him.

Newark Officers Are Suspended In Beating Case

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Newark Police announced today that two policemen had been suspended in connection with the alleged serious beating of a man at police headquarters last Sunday night.

Joseph Rine, 35, of Newark, is reported in critical condition in University Hospital in Columbus.

He was reported to have been struck over the head with a blackjack during a scuffle with officers in the station.

Sgt. Sam Shephard and Patrolman Robert Dyssla were suspended Thursday pending a hearing before the city safety director.

It was reported that Rine had been arrested earlier and taken to police headquarters for questioning about identification on a driver's license.

Planes Pound Cambodia Reds

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Flight after flight of warplanes today pounded the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops who have blocked the government's first offensive of the war some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh.

North Vietnamese troops attacked the Cambodian force along Highway 6 Thursday and killed four government soldiers.

Enemy soldiers were still operating to the rear of the government's forward line today. Three mortar rounds were reported fired on the Cambodians as more government reinforcements moved in.

The enemy was also reported reinforcing and resupplying.

For the first time, the Cambodian command ordered field commanders not to let foreign newsmen cover the action today. No reason was given, but one officer in the town of Skoun said the move might be aimed at preventing foreign journalists from seeing strikes by American jets. No confirmation was available.

Cambodian engineers repaired the last of three bridges destroyed by enemy guerrillas between Skoun and the government forces' forward lines. Field commanders put strong forces around the newly mended bridges to prevent more sabotage.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. bombers were continuing their raids along the highway between the Cambodian troops, strung out for several miles along the road some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh, and the enemy-surrounded city of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of the capital.

The raids are aimed at blocking North Vietnamese reinforcements and destroying their supplies.

Chavez Sets Boycott Of Lettuce

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez is bringing his most potent weapon—a nationwide boycott—to bear on all U.S.-grown lettuce that doesn't carry his union's label.

He announced Thursday the boycott will focus on 64 major cities across the country and "it will be on until the last lettuce grower is signed."

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee leader used the same tactic in bringing the nation's largest table grape growers to the bargaining table early this summer after a bitter five-year dispute.

One Salinas area grower now carries UFWOC's black Aztec eagle label—Inter Harvest Co., a subsidiary of the giant United Fruit Corp.

Chavez moved his UFWOC organizers into the valley less than a week after the rival Teamsters union announced it had signed most valley growers to contracts covering an estimated 13,000 field workers.

Herbert Fleming, a spokesman for about 70 grower-shippers who have signed Teamster contracts, said, "Chavez will be trying to boycott produce that is grown, harvested and shipped by (Teamsters) union workers."

Bloody Fighting Continues Inside Jordan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fighting between Arab guerrillas and the Jordanian army spread into northern Jordan today after a night of bloody clashes in Amman, the capital city.

Guerrilla radio broadcasts said army tank units attacked Palestinian strongholds and that heavy fighting was going on in what the commandos had described earlier as "liberated areas."

The guerrilla broadcasts from Baghdad and Damascus said the tanks launched a three-pronged attack on Ramtha, Turra and El Kassara, villages controlling the Amman-Damascus highway, the Palestinians' pipeline for supplies from Syria.

The government radio in Amman gave no indication of the military situation in its first broadcasts today. It said shortly before midnight the army was in control of Amman and military governor Habis Majali warned the guerrillas that his forces had been holding back their firepower to save lives but could increase their attacks tenfold if the commandos kept fighting.

Radio Damascus proclaimed that northern Jordan, from Amman to the Syrian border, was a "liberated area." It delivered an order from guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat naming himself the administrative authority and calling for the resumption of normal activities in the area.

Guerrilla spokesmen in Amman told newsmen that hundreds of civilians had been cut down in crossfires between guerrillas and army troops in Amman.

Radio Baghdad said one of the northern towns where heavy fighting raged was Irbid, Jordan's second largest city. "The main target is the refugee camp and neighboring residential districts," the broadcast reported.

Irbid, in the northwest corner of Jordan near the Israeli frontier, is where 12,000 Iraqi troops are based. Although the guerrillas have appealed for intervention by the Iraqis, and Iraq's ruling Baath party had promised aid if needed, there was no indication the 12,000 men were involved in the fighting.

No figures were given in casualty estimates for any of the fighting. Reports of casualties generally used such terms as "hundreds" or "scores."

The guerrilla command rejected an offer for safe conduct to the Jordanian-Israeli front if the commandos would lay down their arms and quit the capital and surrounding areas.

"Save your lives and the lives of civilians," said a communique broadcast by Majali. "We shall facilitate your transfer to the front." The guerrillas rejected the overture and ordered commandos to build more roadblocks and lay mines around Amman because the "plotters surely will bring in more troops."

'New' VC Peace Offer Appears Same Old Thing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Cong's "new" eight-point peace plan has a familiar and unacceptable look to Washington officials.

Under the enemy offer, presented in Paris Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Nguyen Thi Binh, Saigon's Thieu-Ky government would be replaced and the United States would have to promise to get its troops out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

In return, the Viet Cong would refrain from attacking the withdrawing allied troops and would discuss future peace arrangements including release of prisoners.

U.S. authorities here and in Paris have agreed to scan the Binh proposal carefully for any possible new openings. But in general, they said, it appears to be a rehash of past offers.

Although a Viet Cong spokesman said the plan contains new points, the text received here showed Mrs. Binh herself described the material only as an elaboration of the Viet Cong's previous 10-point proposal.

Officials here noted the enemy already had proposed a time limit for U.S. withdrawals. Last December the enemy offered a six-month limit.

The 10-point plan and other North Vietnamese-Viet Cong proposals have provided for negotiating a prisoner release after the fighting ends. And under the Thieu-Ky regime is standard fare in enemy demands.

U.S. officials said the American ambassador at the Paris peace talks, David K. E. Bruce, is willing to talk with Hanoi-Viet Cong envoys about any point they may put forward as part of unconditional discussions.

But the United States, they said, will not accept such demands as conditions for the beginning of serious peace negotiations.

Thus, the prospect for progress toward a negotiated end to the Vietnam war does not appear any brighter now than when the Paris talks began 2½ years ago.

Penn Central Wants To Duck State Taxes

Would Hurt Ohio School Systems, Bring Emergency

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — William H. Moore, the new president of the Penn Central Transportation Co., indicated Thursday that the railroad's hope of getting out of debt depends upon not paying taxes for several years.

Moore, who took over the presidency last month on a five-year contract calling for $165,000 a year, said at a news conference in Cleveland that "My goal is to have Penn Central running in the black in four or five years."

Under questioning, he admitted that his goal depended on not paying taxes owed.

Penn Central owes $5.3 million in back taxes to 59 counties in the state. It pays $85 million a year in taxes throughout the nation. It has asked a U.S. District Court judge in Philadelphia to allow it to defer payment of taxes.

An assistant to Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown appeared at a hearing in Philadelphia Thursday to argue the state's case for collection of taxes.

Ohio is one of 12 states arguing against the tax deferment, which affects the budgets of school systems and governments.

Moore said by the term "black ink" he meant the railroad would show a profit in its profit and loss operating statement four to five years from now. He added that "black ink" did not take into consideration payment of back taxes.

Nixon To Promise Israelis Aid If They Resume Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reportedly was prepared today to promise Israeli Premier Golda Meir extensive new economic aid and continuing military assistance, while urging her to end promptly her boycott of Middle East peace talks.

The plain-spoken 72-year-old Israeli leader went into today's round of talks with Nixon and other high U.S. officials expected to emphasize her government's dissatisfaction over American failure to demand that Egypt roll back missile bases deployed near the Suez Canal in alleged violation of the military standstill agreement sponsored by the United States.

The United States has backed Israel's charge that Egypt has violated the military standstill accord which is part of the cease-fire agreement. Washington has called on Egypt and Russia, which supplies the anti-aircraft missiles, to "rectify" the deployment.

But the Nixon administration has refused to say what "rectification" means, and officials here see no prospect that the new anti-aircraft emplacements will be pulled back from the cease-fire zone.

Five policemen had been injured in an earlier disturbance at police headquarters when a crowd of blacks demanded release of a prisoner. Police arrested six persons in that incident.

Dead is Patrolman William Miscannon, patrolling in a predominantly Negro inner city area.

Walter Shaw, his partner, said a Negro man approached their car said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you," and fired a pistol at the officers head.

The attacker fled in a car. Shaw was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Shaw's call for aid brought 30 policemen to the area. Snipers fired as an ambulance arrived for Miscannon.

In the ensuing gunfire several persons ran from the Black Panther building and fired at police from other buildings in the block of small businesses.

Police lobbed tear gas into the headquarters building before moving in to search the premises.

They found the building empty.

Officers identified the wounded youth as Troy Montgomery 16. They said he came out of the building with a rifle in his hand and a bandolier of ammunition over his shoulder.

Police were uncertain how many persons had been in the building and fled during the siege.

John Melvin McClellan was arrested nearby shortly afterwards and charged with Miscannon's murder.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects the Panthers took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said. "I have a little reason to believe that but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Shortly before midnight Wednesday about 20 Negroes wearing Black Panther emblems including women turned up at police headquarters demanding the release of James Dotson.

Police said Dotson was jailed Wednesday night for resisting arrest when traffic warrants were served on him.

Antihijack Security Force Nabs Man In Grand Bahamas

FREEMONT, Grand Bahama (AP) — A tough antihijack security web has snared its first gun-toter at the Freeport International Airport.

All air travelers leaving Freeport, a sunsplashed tourist city of casinos in the blue Gulf Stream off Florida, face searches of their baggage and often themselves before boarding flights.

British Overseas Airways Corp. initiated on Sept. 8 the searches now conducted on passengers of every airline. BOAC passengers also face frisking and search of their baggage at Miami.

The first pistol packer caught by the search program was a young American convicted Thursday of trying to board a Pan American jet the day before with a gun in his pocket.

Paul Stephen, 24, of Port Chester, N.Y., was sentenced to three months hard labor by Magistrate John Cronin, who said from the bench that "carrying of weapons onto planes will not be tolerated." Stephen told the court he had made no effort to hide the .25-caliber pistol and that it was not loaded.

Salathiel Thompson, deputy commissioner of police in Freeport, said Stephen's pistol was found by an airline examiner after he had cleared customs at the airport.

Two or more inspectors, supplied by the participating airlines, are stationed "at every gate in the airport," Thompson said. "Baggage or hand luggage, anything being carried out, is searched."

Inspectors open all bags, including women's handbags. Male passengers, especially those wearing coats, are frisked by uniformed airline workers.

tation of the flag. Arrests for displaying the emblem are common in New York City.

Last year, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that the Constitution protects those who denounce the flag in words. The decision reversed the conviction of a Brooklyn bus driver who burned a flag in outrage after hearing James Meredith, a civil rights activist, had been ambushed and shot.

The court ducked, however, the issue whether people can be punished for burning or defacing the American flag.

Radich contends New York state's 1967 flag desecration law violates the First Amendment's free speech guarantee. He argues respect for the flag cannot be compelled in a free society.

The New York Court of Appeals disagreed in upholding his conviction on a 5-2 vote. The majority noted that "insults to a flag have been the cause of war," and said Radich cannot be compelled in a free society to express his views.

The Long Island war protesters are attacking another New York law, one that forbids placing any word, design or drawing upon the flag, whatever the purpose. This, they say, is an unconstitutional attempt to compel respect for the flag.

"In a free society no person should be compelled to make ritualistic obeisance to a rapping of the state, whether by being forced to salute it or by being forced to treat it as though it were the secular equivalent of a religious icon," their appeal says.

Last June, a federal court in New York City said the law could not be applied to the peace emblem because it was not a flag in a legal sense. But the court said the law's prohibition against using the flag as a design did not violate the Constitution.

All the states and the federal government have laws that forbid the desecration of the flag. Their validity is at stake in the two appeals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to modernize Congress and shed some light on its procedures has won overwhelming House approval but could still be lost in the Senate's adjournment rush.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who has set Oct. 15 as the hoped-for adjournment date, says he'll do his best to get it through, but is making no promises.

The Senate passed a congressional reform bill in 1967 only to have it die in the House.

Despite a lack of enthusiasm for the present bill by House leaders and committee chairman, it sailed through the House 326 to 19 Thursday after intermittent consideration for the last two months.

The bill was a modest proposal as it came to the floor but was transformed into a significant reform measure by amendments.

Key changes would end secret voting by members in committee and House sessions, make it easier to get a vote on controversial measures and strengthen the position of the minority.

In a bow to the electronic age, the House voted to permit television coverage of its committee sessions, cleared the way for use of computers for a wide variety of services and called for a study to see if voting procedures could be quickened by use of an electronic system.

The bill also reflects House concern with the current atmosphere of violence. It calls for installation of a bullet-proof glass screen between the visitors' galleries and the House chamber.

An attempt to delete this provision was soundly defeated as several older members recalled the 1954 incident in which Puerto Rican nationalists fired shots from the gallery, wounding several members.

Although the galleries would be sealed off, sound equipment would permit visitors to hear what was being said and a commentary explaining what was going on would be provided.

The bill is the first overhaul of House rules and procedures in 24 years and has been five years making its way through Congress.

A joint committee on reorganization started work in 1965, producing the bill the Senate passed in 1967. Objections of House chairmen kept that bill from reaching the House floor.

Effects of Automobile Strike Grow; Walkout In 4th Day

DETROIT (AP) — The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,998 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the strike, almost 16 per cent of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufactured part vital to other automakers. However, since GM is its own parts' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production.

Clarence Lock, director of the Michigan Department of Revenue, said a lengthy strike could force the legislature to raise the state income tax rate. He said the strike represents a major loss of revenue to the state.

Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs said the strike could have drastic effects on the city's economy if it lasts more than 10 days. He pointed out that the city was suffering from high unemployment before the strike.

No new national-level talks in the strike were scheduled until Tuesday. Meanwhile, top union officials are on a national tour, meeting with representatives of the UAW's 155 local-level GM bargaining units to explain strike strategy and to encourage rank-and-file support.

Bargaining on thousands of local in-plant issues is continuing.

Driver Injured And Cited In Two-Car Crash

A 52-year-old Williamsport man was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, for head injuries suffered in a two-car collision at 6:16 p.m. Thursday on Stahl Road in Scioto Township.

Richard Glenn Downing was treated and released after his auto had collided with a car driven by Roy Kenneth Bowen, 32, Orient, who injured his arm in the mishap. Bowen was referred to the doctor for treatment.

According to the report of Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz, Bowen was southbound on Stahl Road.

Downing, who was northbound, went left of center in a curve and the two vehicles collided.

Trouble-Makers May Be Candid Camera Subjects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police are considering sending plain clothesmen to Ohio State University football games this fall to take pictures of suspicious persons.

City police, Highway Patrol officials and university officers are to meet Monday to review the plan.

If approved, the plan would add the photographer-officers to the football security force.

The undercover shutterbugs would photograph trouble-makers during football games.

Police said they anticipate no trouble but just want to play it safe with the camera toting officers.

use the tax money elsewhere. Brown sent a letter Thursday to Gov. James A. Rhodes warning him that deferment of Penn Central taxes may have a grave effect on public schools and that if Rhodes should call a special session of the Ohio General Assembly to consider campus unrest, the legislators should also consider emergency funding to make up the tax loss.

Cuyahoga County Auditor Ralph J. Perk said that if the railroad should plead for debt forgiveness in bankruptcy court in its reorganization, the taxes would remain owed. He said the federal court could defer payment, but could not overrule the estate's assessment law.

The museum committee will meet to finalize plans for its decoration. Twenty more chairs have been ordered.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Everitt talked on their hobby "Covered Bridges." Mr. Everitt showed slides of covered bridges found in other states and Canada as well as Ohio.

Originally there were more than 10,000 covered bridges now there are fewer than 2,500. Covered bridges were built near grist mills. Many bridges have been removed as unsafe; some have been burned by vandals.

The bridge was covered to protect both the structure and the people using it from the weather. They were sometimes called kissing bridges for obvious reasons.

Refreshments were served by the museum committee. Lincoln Mader presided at the tea table.

Something Of Interest

It may be interesting to know the educational requirements of your doctor of chiropractic.

Many states require two years pre-professional college training in an accredited state university or college, the regular professional four years of academic study, plus an internship. He must successfully complete a curriculum including anatomy, biochemistry, physiology, public health, pathology, diagnosis, pediatrics, psychiatry, x-ray, lab studies, etc., before receiving his doctors degree (D.C.). After this, the chiropractor must pass a state board of basic science examination as well as the chiropractic board examination to meet requirements for state licensure. Many states require the D.C. to attend an educational seminar yearly for license renewal.

The profession is constantly doing research work in the field of x-ray interpretation, techniques of spinal manipulation and with various conditions associated with the spine and nervous system.

tation of the flag. Arrests for displaying the emblem are common in New York City.

Last year, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that the Constitution protects those who denounce the flag in words. The decision reversed the conviction of a Brooklyn bus driver who burned a flag in outrage after hearing James Meredith, a civil rights activist, had been ambushed and shot.

The court ducked, however, the issue whether people can be punished for burning or defacing the American flag.

Radich contends New York state's 1967 flag desecration law violates the First Amendment's free speech guarantee. He argues respect for the flag cannot be compelled in a free society.

The New York Court of Appeals disagreed in upholding his conviction on a 5-2 vote. The majority noted that "insults to a flag have been the cause of war," and said Radich cannot expect contempt upon the flag to express his views.

The Long Island war protesters are attacking another New York law, one that forbids placing any word, design or drawing upon the flag, whatever the purpose. This, they say, is an unconstitutional attempt to compel respect for the flag.

"In a free society no person should be compelled to make ritualistic obeisance to a rapping of the state, whether by being forced to salute it or by being forced to treat it as though it were the secular equivalent of a religious icon," their appeal says.

Last June, a federal court in New York City said the law could not be applied to the peace emblem because it was not a flag in a legal sense. But the court said the law's prohibition against using the flag as a design did not violate the Constitution.

All the states and the federal government have laws that forbid the desecration of the flag. Their validity is at stake in the two appeals.

Agnew Lunches With Brokers

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew made an unannounced trip from Washington Thursday to lunch with Wall Street executives at the Bankers Club.

There was no official report on what he told the bankers and brokers present, but one listener said later Agnew talked on "Vietnam, Cambodia, and young liberals and radicals."

A spokesman for the vice president described it as one of a series of informal discussions the administration has been carrying on with leading business and industrial figures.

Congressional Reform OK'd By House, Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to modernize Congress and shed some light on its procedures has won overwhelming House approval but could still be lost in the Senate's adjournment rush.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who has set Oct. 15 as the hoped-for adjournment date, says he'll do his best to get it through, but is making no promises.

The Senate passed a congressional reform bill in 1967 only to have it die in the House.

Despite a lack of enthusiasm for the present bill by House leaders and committee chairman, it sailed through the House 326 to 19 Thursday after intermittent consideration for the last two months.

The bill was a modest proposal as it came to the floor but was transformed into a significant reform measure by amendments.

Key changes would end secret voting by members in committee and House sessions, make it easier to get a vote on controversial measures and strengthen the position of the minority.

In a bow to the electronic age, the House voted to permit television coverage of its committee sessions, cleared the way for use of computers for a wide variety of services and called for a study to see if voting procedures could be quickened by use of an electronic system.

The bill also reflects House concern with the current atmosphere of violence. It calls for installation of a bullet-proof glass screen between the visitors' galleries and the House chamber.

An attempt to delete this provision was soundly defeated as several older members recalled the 1954 incident in which Puerto Rican nationalists fired shots from the gallery, wounding several members.

Although the galleries would be sealed off, sound equipment would permit visitors to hear what was being said and a commentary explaining what was going on would be provided.

The bill is the first overhaul of House rules and procedures in 24 years and has been five years making its way through Congress.

A joint committee on reorganization started work in 1965, producing the bill the Senate passed in 1967. Objections of House chairmen kept that bill from reaching the House floor.

Effects of Automobile Strike Grow; Walkout In 4th Day

DETROIT (AP) — The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,998 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the strike, almost 16 per cent of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufactured part vital to other automakers. However, since GM is its own parts' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production. Clarence Lock, director of the Michigan Department of Revenue, said a lengthy strike could force the legislature to raise the state income tax rate. He said the strike represents a major loss of revenue to the state.

De'roit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs said the strike could have drastic effects on the city's economy if it lasts more than 10 days. He pointed out that the city was suffering from high unemployment before the strike.

No new national-level talks in the strike were scheduled until Tuesday. Meanwhile, top union officials are on a national tour, meeting with representatives of the UAW's 155 local-level GM bargaining units to explain strike strategy and to encourage rank-and-file support.

Bargaining on thousands of local in-plant issues is continuing.

Driver Injured And Cited In Two-Car Crash

A 52-year-old Williamsport man was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, for head injuries suffered in a two-car collision at 6:16 p.m. Thursday on Stahl Road in Scioto Township.

Richard Glenn Downing was treated and released after his auto had collided with a car driven by Roy Kenneth Bowen, 32, Orient, who injured his arm in the mishap. Bowen was referred to the doctor for treatment.

According to the report of Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz, Bowen was southbound on Stahl Road.

Downing, who was northbound, went left of center in a curve and the two vehicles collided.

Trouble-Makers May Be Candid Camera Subjects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police are considering sending plain clothesmen to Ohio State University football games this fall to take pictures of suspicious persons.

City police, Highway Patrol officials and university officers are to meet Monday to review the plan.

If approved, the plan would add the photographer-officers to the football security force.

The undercover shutterbugs would photograph trouble-makers during football games. Police said they anticipate no trouble but just want to play it safe with the camera toting officers.

Cuyahoga County Auditor Ralph J. Perk said that if the railroad should plead for debt forgiveness in bankruptcy court in its reorganization, the taxes would remain owed. He said the federal court could defer payment, but could not overrule the estate's assessment law.

Historical Society Meets

The September meeting of the Pickaway County Historical Society was held in the meeting room of the Clark-May House. It was reported that work on the museum room was in progress.

The museum committee will meet to finalize plans for its decoration. Twenty more chairs have been ordered. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Everitt talked on their hobby "Covered Bridges". Mr. Everitt showed slides of covered bridges found in other states and Canada as well as Ohio.

Originally there were more than 10,000 covered bridges now there are fewer than 2,500. Covered bridges were built near grist mills. Many bridges have been removed as unsafe; some have been burned by vandals.

The bridge was covered to protect both the structure and the people using it from the weather. They were sometimes called kissing bridges for obvious reasons.

Refreshments were served by the museum committee. Lincoln Mader presided at the tea table.

Something Of Interest

It may be interesting to know the educational requirements of your doctor of chiropractic.

Many states require two years pre-professional college training in an accredited state university or college, the regular professional four years of academic study, plus an internship. He must successfully complete a curriculum including anatomy, biochemistry, physiology, public health, pathology, diagnosis, pediatrics, psychiatry, x-ray, lab studies, etc., before receiving his doctors degree (D.C.). After this, the chiropractor must pass a state board of basic science examination as well as the chiropractic board examination to meet requirements for state licensure. Many states require the D.C. to attend an educational seminar yearly for license renewal.

The profession is constantly doing research work in the field of x-ray interpretation, techniques of spinal manipulation and with various conditions associated with the spine and nervous system.

The chiropractic profession is also the largest and fastest growing drugless healing profession in the world and offers a challenging and rewarding career due to the increasing demand for the D.C.

There are more than 45 million Americans and over 600 insurance companies (auto, group, major medical, and individual policies) utilizing chiropractic health care. Each year millions more are taking their health problems to their chiropractors.

The D.C. contends that all systems of the body (digestive, vascular, muscular, etc.) are under the direct control of the nervous system. That proper function of the nervous system will result in proper function of all other systems.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

Compromising With Evil

DECISIONS FOR SPIRITUAL STRENGTH OR MORAL DISASTER

Scripture—Genesis 13:1-13; 18-19.

By R. H. RAMSEY
TODAY'S lesson opens with Abraham and his nephew, Lot, again near Bethel. During a time of famine they had gone southward to Egypt, but when plagues began troubling the Pharaoh's household, they had been asked to leave the country.

When they returned to Canaan, they returned with great flocks and herds and an increasing number of servants. It soon became evident that Abraham and Lot must go separate ways, for the land was unable to support all of them in the same area. The situation became acute when strife developed between the herdsmen of the two men.

In order to insure an amicable separation, Abraham took Lot into the hills and offered him his choice of the country. Lot chose the lush plain of Jordan where there was abundant water and pasture, both essential in that semi-desert land.

As the family leader and elder of the two, Abraham could justifiably insist on keeping the choicest land to himself, for it was he who had received God's call to go into Canaan, and it was his seed which God had promised to make into a great nation. But Abraham knew that the Lord would keep His promise, so he did not insist upon his rights. Abraham stayed in the land of Canaan and Lot journeyed eastward to the plain of Jordan, living for a time as a nomad, but eventually pitching his tents near Sodom, one of the most depraved cities around, and finally moving into the city itself.

Although it sometimes seems that evil runs rampant throughout the world, unchecked and unpunished, divine judgment catches up with evil and evil-doers sooner or later.

As Abraham sat at the door of his tent, he saw three men approaching and offered them hospitality, not realizing they were divine messengers. Through them God revealed His intention to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah. After two of the men left to go to Sodom, Abraham realized he was then in the presence of God.

Characteristically, concerned about the fate of any righteous persons who might live in Sodom, Abraham began praying to God to spare the cities. God assured him He would spare the city if even ten truly righteous persons could be found in all of Sodom.

The two messengers who had gone into Sodom sought out Lot and spent the night with him. They warned him to take his family and flee the city, but when Lot tried to get his sons-in-law to leave, they refused.

The following morning the angels prevailed upon Lot to take his wife and daughters and flee, warning them not to look back.

Then God caused fire and brimstone to rain upon Sodom and Gomorrah, destroying them, together with the cities of Admah and Zeboim. Only Zoar, the city to which Lot had fled, was left standing.

But Lot's wife, lingering behind him as he fled, disobeyed the divine command and looked back at the city. She became a pillar of salt. She might have fallen victim to poisonous fumes and her body became encrusted with a salty scale. Or she might have been transformed into a pillar of salt immediately—which is well within the power of the Lord.

Abraham arose early that morning for he knew that God's judgment upon the cities was certain. God had agreed to spare the city for the sake of just and righteous persons. But they were not to be found.

Still, in sparing Lot, God did answer Abraham's prayer.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As the ex-priest headed for his study one morning to work, his wife called out from an adjoining room, "Make sure you don't come in and talk to your wife! Get right in there and work off all that guilt!"

Irritated, baffled, he went ahead and settled down to his typewriter. But feigning affection, he said, "Honey, is there something you want to talk about?"

"Jesus!" she snapped. "Can't you ever come in and say, 'Hi! You're beautiful, and I love you'?"

He was shocked, silent, refusing to listen further.

That's a real-life scene in the troubled but still enduring marriage of former Catholic priest William H. DuBay as he describes it in the current issue of McCall's. It's been rough he says, adding:

"We're still not sure our marriage will survive."

DuBay, 35, married two years ago to an Episcopalian divorcee, the former Mary Ellen Rochester, now 31, after he was suspended from the priesthood is one of many ex-priests who have married, and he says they face special problems.

"The trouble is marriage can trap a priest in a situation for which he is not prepared," DuBay says. He says not all priests are "completely unfit for matrimony, but it would be hard to think of a background more at odds with it."

The main difficulty is not hangups about sex, he contends, but rather a fear of "intimacy, close personal contact with another human being." He adds this may stem in part from being schooled against sex.

"What priests are not prepared for is a constant, day-after-day relationship with a woman," he says. "The church has successfully implanted in its priests an almost crippling inability to carry out a healthy relationship."

DuBay was suspended in 1966 after he called for dismissal of now retired James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, then archbishop of Los Angeles, accusing him of not taking the lead in fighting racism and of repressing priests who did. DuBay also published a book, "The Human Church," calling for a priests' union and numerous other reforms.

He worked for two years afterward in various community projects before his 1968 marriage. The couple with her four young children and their own 11-month-old son, now live in a wooded mountainside of the San Jacinto range near the resort town of Idyllwild, Calif. He lectures, writes, and at night, has managed a town theater.

Soon after their marriage, his wife began noticing in him "a certain preoccupation, a lack of spontaneity, and my uncanny ability to tune her out as I busied myself with chores."

"We made love, but there wasn't much fun and teasing. Wife and family were just two more elements I had added to a well-ordered life...My inattention drove her wild."

He traces his impersonal detachment to seminary training, which he describes as turning out excellent "organization men," preoccupied with externals, who are usually good administrators, intellectuals, cool in the face of tensions.

But these qualities "do not prepare them to be lovers, friends, fathers, husbands. Having spent 20 years tuning out my own feelings, how could I be expected to tune in to the feelings of others?"

His "capacity for pious withdrawal," he says turned his marriage into a battleground. Sometimes, he says, "I would go into a rage, once even ordering her to her room....We fought in front of children, friends, strangers, in the house, behind the barn, in the car and in the middle of town."

Finally, he says, she gave him an ultimatum—either divorce, or he see a psychiatrist. He chose the psychiatrist, who is quoted as telling DuBay:

"What you need is sustained responsiveness. We can call it an openness to the psychological presence of another. You react well with your head. You have to learn how to react with your emotions. Not only Mary Ellen, but also her four children reacted this way—intuitively, spontaneously—and they need you to react that way, too."

In other words, DuBay sums it up, he was "responsible and hardworking, but not loving."

He says the birth of his own child to Mary Ellen gave him a sense of starting anew, to grow up. His wife still has "plenty of doubts" about their marriage and "hope is difficult...I can't be sure that Mary Ellen and I will make it, but I do now that, in spite of our hassles I am glad I am out of the priesthood — and married."

Unwanted Space Returns

Chroniclers at the North American Air Defense Command's Space Defense Center at Colorado Springs have recorded more than 4,500 objects which have been launched into space since Sputnik I opened the space age.

Of these, some 2,600 pieces — some weighing tons — have returned to earth, many of them disappearing into nothingness as they are consumed in the earth's atmosphere. But a surprising number of pieces are surviving environmental friction to land back on the planet.

To date, the only known casualty from these falling hunks of metal has been a cow killed in Cuba. But there is increasing concern that, as space science perfects new metals which are capable of withstanding the tremendous heat generated on re-entry, the debris returning intact will continue to increase — and along with it the dangers to people below.

A few weeks ago, hundred of pounds of metal fell into three states. These were believed to be remnants of a Soviet space ship launched in 1969. In an earlier incident, a Japanese ship was struck by pieces from another Soviet satellite.

Other debris has been found in such diverse places as Australia, Mexico and South Africa. As this record after only a decade of space exploration clearly indicates, space scientists in the near future will face the problem of either retrieving or destroying the myriad objects they are continually throwing into space. Vast as it is, they have still not succeeded in repealing earth's gravitational pull.

Elevating The Reserves

A greater reliance upon National Guard and Reserves forces in any future military buildup, as announced by Defense Secretary Laird, will be undertaken primarily as an economy move. It is less expensive to maintain National Guardsmen and Reservists than a comparable number of full time troops.

Placing greater reliance upon reserve forces will have other beneficial effects. For one, it should remove the unfairness, demonstrated in the Vietnam war, of relying largely upon draftees for combat duties.

It also ought to clarify, perhaps more than any move in recent years, the status of the National Guard and Reserve both in peacetime and during national emergencies. As the number of regular troops decreases, a process already underway, the reserves will assume greater importance in the national defense.

Along with that role will go the responsibility for maintaining National Guardsmen and Reservists in top preparedness for their military specialties. This increased attention should help unit commanders maintain morale among their men and make the enlistment opportunities within the ranks of the citizen soldiers more attractive.

'Stable' North America

It probably will come as something of a surprise to residents of the two countries to learn that Canada and the United States are the most stable of the major industrial nations, in terms of prices, in the last decade.

This information comes from a survey made by the Dresdner Bank A. G. in Frankfurt, Germany, of price inflation in 14 major industrial nations between 1960 and 1969. Consumer prices during the period rose by "only" 25 to 27 per cent in Canada, the U. S. and West Germany, but went up as much as 58 per cent in Japan and Denmark.

Last year, not a good year for North American price stability, the price increase of 7.5 per cent in the Netherlands and 6 per cent in France were both higher.

Wages, the bank notes, are increasing more rapidly than productivity throughout the West, contributing to price instability. Somehow, the pain is not eased much by learning the affliction of inflation is more advanced elsewhere.

According To Boyle

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories have rose-colored lenses. We don't depend on memories so much on sunny days. But they are a great comfort when skies are gray, the rain falls, and aches and pains afflict the bones and heart of man.

Memory softens or erases the hurts we knew in other times and casts a magical glow around them. It works on our spirits like a friendly medicine that leaves no bitter after effects.

You have a fair-sized warehouse of yesterdays yourself if you can look back and remember when —

The winter season wasn't official until the newspapers carried pictures of rich old John D. Rockefeller giving a dime to some kid on a Florida golf course.

There were more pot-bellied stoves than pot-bellied people in America.

If a mother learned her daughter had been seen doing the shimmy on a dance floor, well—she felt the whole family might as well get on the next train and leave town forever, as they'd all been disgraced beyond redemption.

During prohibition days, if a fellow awoke with a hangover and couldn't get hold of a bootlegger, he could always obtain emergency relief by drinking his wife's kitchen bottle of vanilla extract or buying some cheap hair tonic from an understanding barber.

A housewife could take a dollar bill, spend an exhilarating afternoon shopping in a five-and-ten-cent store and still emerge with a quarter in change left.

More people ate biscuits than bread at breakfast time.

A preacher was often admired less for the inspiration he offered his congregation during his Sunday sermon than for the authority with which he gave them chili.

A sidecar was something attacked to a motorcycle — not something poured by a bartender.

Not so many things bugged people, and nobody had even thought of bugging telephones.

The man-in-the-street felt safe in the street.

The national goal was to "See

America First"—not knock it first.

Those were the days—remember?

No Judges

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — For a short time in 1935 Rhode Island had no justices to sit on its supreme court. The general assembly, in an all-night session, declared vacant the seats on the court and that of the sheriff of Providence County. It later named new justices and another sheriff.

Dental Defects

FRANKFORT, KY. (AP) — A federally sponsored nutrition survey in Kentucky shows that dental defects are more severe than in nine other states checked similarly. Half the low-income children under 18 never had visited a dentist.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN A Tuscaloosa luxury home an irate father collared an Alabama senior in a suspiciously dark living room and thundered, "You rascal, I'll teach you to get fresh with my daughter." "That'll be right kind of you, sir," responded the senior. "I haven't been able to get anywhere on my own."

Before the new horse racing season opens, chronic better Nick Winters is going to take Spanish lessons. Reason: near the end of the last fall meeting, his wife told him, "I got a tip right from headquarters for Aqueduct today. I can't remember the nag's name, but it has something to do with a hat." So Winters found one horse named "Little Hat" and another named "Brown Derby" and bet fifty dollars on each. Both finished far back. Winner of the feature race—at odds of 40 to 1—was a horse named "Sombbrero."

A precious tot informed her kindergarten teacher that her poor father couldn't go to work because of arm trouble. "What kind of arm trouble?" asked the teacher. The tot explained, "My mother broke it."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

After the slightest exertion, I find that I become fatigued and can barely do my household chores. With all the advertisements about having insufficient iron in our blood, I am beginning to feel that this is purely a woman's disease. How can my husband and I be tested for anemia, since he also gets tired without doing anything? I have seen him get exhausted drinking beer, eating peanuts, and watching a baseball game.

Mrs. H. T., Kansas

Dear Mrs. T.: I know that I am going to become overwhelmingly involved with the Women's Liberation Movement when I state unequivocally that the menstruation process cannot be shared by men. This gives women an added reason for fatigue and many contribute to the exhaustion that comes with household activities.

Neither men nor women need to be burdened by the frightening techniques in advertising that suggests that they have blood that is deficient in iron or that they are anemic. A sensible diet almost always contains all the minerals, the vitamins and chemicals for normal, healthy body functioning.

Expensive food supplements, tonics, and magical wonder potions do little or nothing for the health but do cause a distinct "anemia" of the pocketbook.

A test for anemia is a simple one and can immediately tell you if there is any need for these expensive, well sold products. If iron is needed as an addition to a diet, it can be purchased for practically nothing in a simple form. That which is more important is that you must rule out, with your doctor's help, all other reasons for excessive fatigue. Now, as far as your husband is concerned, you must really understand that a "tired" baseball game in the ninth inning can be very emotionally distressing and fatiguing. Be patient with him and cuddle him until the football season starts.

I have two scars on my face that followed an accident when I was a child. Now, at the age of 18, I would like to have them removed but I am afraid of surgery. Is there any way that this could be done without an operation?

Miss J. B. Connecticut

Dear Miss B.: Small, superficial scars of the skin of the face can be removed by a relatively new process known as dermabrasion, or skin planing. A delicate wire brush can, under local anesthesia, take off the outer layers of the skin. The process is a painless one. However, before undertaking this or any other method of scar removal, consultation with your doctor or skin specialist is essential to see if you are an ideal candidate for this method. Deeper scars may need plastic surgery. The results are excellent and gratifying.

The Business World

By DAVID BURKE (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — We are approaching once again the season of the year when restless government officials and businessmen attempt to peer into the future and determine the fate of the economy—which is sometimes their fate also.

Naturally, it is a time of equivocation, but perhaps understandably so, because the economic signs and portents themselves can't seem to stay in their appointed places in the sky but instead flutter about like the northern lights. In July, for example, the index of industrial activity, which is the measure of the output of mines, factories and utilities, advanced 0.2 per cent, its first rise in four months. It was welcomed as a very good omen indeed.

Nixon administration officials, for example, saw in this sign clear evidence that the economy was preparing to resume its expansion after a near starvation diet of several months.

But then came the August industrial output statistics and they were off again, not by much, but in the view of optimists they should have shown continued growth. It's a tough business, even for the expert forecasters.

Here is how some other esteemed seers view the somewhat cloudy skies:

The Econometric Forecasting Unit at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania, in its summer newsletter: "The U.S. economy has turned around and started to grow again."

The Wharton economists, in making their estimate, succumbed to a weakness common to all forecasters and made the assumption there would not be a national automotive strike against a major producer. Anticipating, however, that their assumption might be incorrect, they stated that a major strike would slow the expansion in the fourth quarter but that it would resume again in 1971.

The Bank of America, San Francisco, in a "Focus on the U.S. Economy": "An early look at 1971 suggests the year ahead will be one of restless resurgence. Although business activity should move ahead at a faster clip than in 1970, it will be sluggish when measured against our full employment capability."

The American consumer, as measured by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan: "The index of consumer sentiment rose to 77.1 in the third quarter of 1970 from 75.4 in the second quarter," meaning consumers were a mite bit more optimistic about the economic future.

The American consumer, as reported in an interview with Albert Sindlinger, whose Norwood, Pa., firm constantly monitors sentiment by telephone: "There's little evidence of any expectation of a sharp upturn in the economy."

A young economist on the staff of Rinfret Boston Associates, economic consultants to industry, in late August: "I can feel the strength in my bones."

John Wayne

By GENE HANDSAKER

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The big, rangy superstar prowled impatiently about the Goldwyn studio stage, coffee cup in hand and a scowl on his face.

"This shot was supposed to be ready at 11:30," he growled, "but it sure don't look like it."

The complaint was strictly in the Rooster Cogburn style. For although he complained about the slow schedule—"They told me this'd take four days out of three weeks' time; now it looks more like three weeks out of four days' time"—he was really having a grand time.

Here, on the same stage where he had filmed "Stagecoach," "The Long Voyage Home," "Hondo" and "The High and the Mighty," John Wayne was filming his first television special.

It's called "Swing Out, Sweet Land," and it will appear on NBC Nov. 29 with an all-star cast.

"You're damn right," said Wayne. "For years I've been appearing on everybody else's television show. I figured it was time I got them to return the favor."

"And they all came through. Bob Hope—he does a monologue of entertaining the troops at Valley Forge that is hilarious. Dan Rowan and Dick Martin—they oughta be grateful, 'cause I was one of the first stars to do those gags on 'Laugh-In' and I paved the way for others."

"Glen Campbell—he's my kids' favorite. Red Skelton, Jack Benny, Raquel Welch, Lucille Ball—they're all returning the favor."

The man behind "Swing Out, Sweet Land" is producer Paul Keyes, in whom Wayne has complete confidence—"After all, he put Jack Paar on the map, set up Dean Martin on television, and was the important factor in the beginning of 'Laugh-In.'"

"Everybody thinks this is going to be a big flag-waving show because John Wayne is the star," said Keyes. "But people will find out that it's going to be fun. Wait till they see Phyllis Diller as the first female candidate for president. Or Lucille Ball as the Statue of Liberty. Or Rowan and Martin as the Wright Brothers. Or Dean Martin as Eli Whitney."

Wayne seemed pleased that the message will be sugar-coated, but the message will be there, nevertheless.

"I'm doing this show for my kids," he remarked. "Before I got too old, I wanted to do something on television that would give them an idea about how their country developed—even if it is played largely for laughs."

The result, he said, will be the most expensive show in television history—"It'll cost Budweiser about two million, before time charges. But hell, if I can give 'em an audience of 50 million, that's not such a bad buy."

Tragedy Leaves Father Angry

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours have gone out of their heads over a personal tragedy. Their 18-year-old daughter left home to marry a serviceman she had known only two months. The police were called to avoid bloodshed when she left, and her father warned the girl and his serviceman never to set foot on his property again.

Now the father falls asleep on the porch every night with a loaded shotgun in his hand. An accident could easily occur under these circumstances.

He will not listen to reason. He even got his son to round up a bunch of toughs to try to find the serviceman and beat him up.

Are there any counselors in this area who could talk some sense into this man in his angry state?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Counselors? A man who sits with a loaded gun and murder in his heart needs restraining first, not counseling. For is own good and the good of his neighbors, your friend should be reported to the legal authorities and the local mental health organization. He sounds sick and violent. A dangerous combination. And since you are his "friend," — you do it.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion, is it permissible for a woman to neck (or whatever you want to call it) with her ex-husband?

Mrs. William Cox Presents Program For Monday Club

Monday Club held its opening session for the 1970-71 season in the meeting room of The Pickaway County Historical Society, Monday evening. Mrs. William Cox, the retiring president, presided during the first part of the business meeting. After expressing her gratitude to members of the club for their cooperation during her term of office she presented the gavel to Mrs. George Sowers, the incoming president.

Mrs. Sowers expressed her hope for a good year for the club and pledged the efforts of her executive committee and herself to make it so.

During the business meeting Mrs. Sowers appointed the following committee to prepare resolutions of respect in the death of Mrs. Arthur Johnson. They are Mrs. James Reichelderfer, Mrs. Cleon Webb and Miss Elizabeth Tolbert. A recommendation from the executive board was adopted by the club. The recommendation provides that memorial gifts to a Monday Club member be contributed to the Children's Services Scholarship Fund. This action was taken due to many memorial gifts which have recently been received by the club.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. Sowers introduced Mrs. Tom Renick, the reporter for the evening. Mrs. Renick read the general topic for the year's program, "Will The Real America Please Stand Up!" She then presented Mrs. William Cox, whose subject for the evening was "To Those Who See."

Mrs. Cox opened her program by showing a series of color slides depicting the many faces and beauties of America. She then presented the following delightful and interesting discussion.

William Saroyan has said, "to truly see is an art." Gwen Frostic, noted for her delicate art work and sensitive word pictures is an American with the ability to truly see. Looking at America with eyes and mind seeing beyond the sinister headlines of the day coupled with the random thoughts of Miss Frostic was the subject of a paper entitled "To Those Who See." It was intended to set the mood for the Monday Club theme this year. During the coming months, Monday Club will explore the things that are right with America.

Miss Frostic has written a beautiful passage which expresses in delicate phrases the idea that to truly see, one must be able to look at bare branches but know they hold the promise of new life; one must be able to look at falling stars and be assured of the permanence of the constellations and one must be able to watch the geese fade from view and yet have the faith that they return at nesting time. If one can see beyond the immediate moment, then one can truly see.

In these days when America is being buffeted by the winds of discontent not only from the outside but from within as well, it would seem important for her people to learn to look beyond the moment. Perhaps it is the time for America to turn around and reflect on the heritage and greatness that has come to her. Perhaps it is the time to headline her favorable statistics. To those who see, it is no accident that America offers more of the good things in life to her 200 million citizens. It is no accident that the Statue of Liberty has become the lamp of hope to so many from other lands. Miss Frostic, perhaps, has found the answer in her lovely line, "caterpillar, cocoon, butterfly... can one NOT believe in miracles?" To those who see, America's miracle is in the grandeur of God that touches her from coast to coast.

The beauty of America is in the eyes of the beholder. To some it is the rugged coast of Oregon, others see it in the bustling cities, while still others find it in the great engineering feats like the Golden Gate Bridge. To many, the towering Redwoods — giants like the country they inhabit — present an inspiring picture to those who look upon them. Miss Frostic has written, "Somehow a tree exemplifies a great unconquerable spirit." It is possible to see America patterned after the Redwoods if one looks beyond the moment.

Americans must not drown out the peals of the Liberty Bell nor the sounds of the drums, bugles and fife echoing down through the ages. Neither must Americans forget the places made by heroes, nor the heroes. The documents written to inspire men to such heights must forever remain a part of the real America. To those who see, however, the real America is not all serious. She's Disneyland on the West Coast and Coney Island on the East. She's a gay, giddy land of enchantment filled with wondrous things to set one's heart a-dreaming.

America is cities, farms, schools and churches, but more than that, America is people. America is the blending of the cultures, talents and the emotions of all the people from all the different lands they represent. To those who see, the real America is a tolerance for each individual's place in the scheme of things — in one great nation.

The real America still has the charm of a summer's day. The grey swirling blizzards of her winter are but an interlude — an interlude to nudge us into an awareness of the heritage that is ours... for those who see.

In the foreground a member of the club is shown deftly attaching a worm on a hook for one of the youngsters to use. In the background another member stands with a broken pole waiting for assistance. The children, oblivious to the adult problems, find the park area a great place to run while others take the fishing project very seriously. At refreshment time they all dropped their poles and ran for the treats.

Lutheran Church Women Conduct Quarterly Meet

Trinity Lutheran Church Women held a quarterly meeting in the Parish House Tuesday evening with Mrs. Larry Wing president, in charge.

After the prayer and singing "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," Mrs. Wing led in the devotions with the reading of chapters 7 and 8 of Professor A. W. Poovey's resource book, "The Christian In Society." These chapters deal with the madness of war and the causes. A quote in Professor Poovey's book says, "War is a consequence of a world estranged from God, a fruit of man's sinful passions." He also says that sin produces war, just as it produces all the other evil in the world. The last chapter reveals how the human race has polluted the land. Professor Poovey says that we take nature for granted simply because it is there.

During the business meeting Mrs. Paul Teegardin announced about a Sunday School Happening at Trinity Lutheran Church on Sept. 27 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Merton Lorentz announced that the Pickaway County Community Forum will meet on Sept. 23 at 2 p.m. at the church. It will be a Forum where older citizens can express their views on the needs of older people. It's also for people under 55 who are interested in the needs of older people.

New officers were elected for 1971. They are president, Mrs. Herman Will; vice president, Mrs. Charles Walters; secretary, Sherry Ann Franklin; treasurer, Mrs. Paul Teegardin; education secretary Mrs. Larry Mallett; stewardship secretary, Mrs. Gladden Troutman.

Madelyn Sanders presented the program with a tour of Europe through slides. First to Paris, France, to see the Cathedral of Notre Dame and the Madeleine Church; then to London, England, and Westminster Abbey the House of Parliament and Big Ben about to strike twelve noon. Next was the charming village of Luxembourg; the countryside of Germany with its country churches; East and West Berlin; the beautiful countryside of Austria and the city of Vienna. The last tour around Europe was to Northern Italy and the cities of Venice and Pisa.

The meeting was closed by praying the "Lord's Prayer." Members went to the next room for refreshments of cake, ice cream, coffee and tea served by the members of Ruth Circle with Mrs. John Smith as chairman. Tables were set up with just a simple vase of flowers in the center. The serving table was covered by a lace tablecloth with a centerpiece of a bowl of roses and tall red candles in decorated holders.

Pickaway Social Club Sets Amish Area Tour

Pickaway Social Club will hold its next meeting on Thursday, September 24 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran Parish House, 135 E. Mound St., Circleville. This group is composed of area residents who enjoy meeting with others for fellowship and pleasure. There are no age limits, no rules or regulations, no dues. The meeting place is furnished at no cost by the church, and incidental expenses are taken care of by a free will offering.

Members or guests may attend for any part of the day or stay all day. Those staying over the lunch hour should bring a sack lunch. Coffee and tea are available free.

Activities vary from time to time. Some have been making warm covers for needy people and lap robes for folks in nursing homes. a hobby of photographing many European churches and cathedrals many of which have very interesting histories. There will also be a short White House Forum held to get ideas and opinions on the problems and needs of older persons.

The club is planning a bus tour on Oct. 7 to Millersburg, where members will have lunch at the home of an Amish family, then on to Zoar, New Philadelphia, Schoenbrunn, Gnadenhuetten, Zaneville and home. There has been so much interest in this tour that two buses have been scheduled instead of one. The price will include the bus fare and cost of the lunch. All members are asked to come prepared to pay this cost. There are just a few reservations available. Anyone interested may call Miss Olive Eitel at 474-3034.

Judge Rules Vietnam War Is Legal

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. District Court judge has dismissed a soldier's challenge to orders sending him to Vietnam, ruling that neither President Johnson nor President Nixon had usurped the Constitution in waging the war.

The case had been brought by Pfc. Malcolm A. Berk, 21, of Queens, who contended that a 1967 New York law barred the government from sending New York servicemen to fight in an unconstitutional war. Berk is now in Vietnam.

Judge Orri G. Judd, in a 50-page decision, rejected the contention, ruling: "Congress repeatedly and unmistakably authorized the use of armed forces of the United States to fight in Vietnam."

"Whether this was a prudent course or a tragic diversion of men and money is immaterial. The Vietnam conflict cannot be blamed upon usurpation by either of the presidents who have held office from 1964 to date."

Judd referred to another recent New York case in which a federal judge rejected a soldier's challenge and upheld the war's constitutionality.

The 18th-century state law, an obscure provision of the New York Bill of Rights, says no person must leave the state to engage in combat without the consent of the legislature or unless the action is "specially provided for" by the U.S. Constitution.

Toledo Teachers Defy Court Order To Return

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Some 2,000 shouting teachers gave a standing show of strength at a rally Thursday night as union leaders called upon them to continue their strike in defiance of a court order.

The teachers cheered as Joseph Cascella, one of their negotiators, urged all strikers to be on the picket line today. Teachers who failed to report to work today faced dismissal under the provisions of the state's Ferguson Act, invoked Thursday by Common Pleas Judge George N. Kiroff.

Cascella told the teachers at the rally to "play it straight!" and not call in sick today or be otherwise "intimidated" by the court's action.

Under the Ferguson Act, which forbids strikes by public employees, teachers who continue to strike after a court order are to be dismissed.

Those rehired after the dispute is settled will lose all seniority, remain on probation for two years and must forego promotions and pay raises for one year.

Judge Kiroff stipulated Thursday that any attempt to circumvent his order would be considered contempt of court.

The stipulation apparently was intended to thwart any attempt by negotiators to provide amnesty to strikers.

Cascella said Thursday school officials had agreed to a "no reprisal clause" in any new contract.

But School Supt. Frank Dick denied such an agreement had been reached and branded Cascella's statement "a complete falsehood."

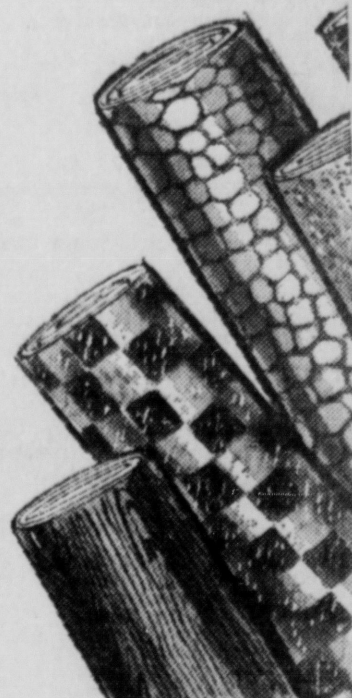

Toledo Federation of Teachers and board of education met briefly Thursday night with a three-member local mediation board and a professional arbitrator from Philadelphia.

Cascella said "a little progress" was made in the talks.

Teachers struck the 50,000-student school system Sept. 9. The dispute centers around wages.

The school board's latest contract offer, rejected by the teachers Wednesday, would have provided pay raises ranging from $200 to $2,800 a year on a salary schedule starting at $7,200 to a maximum of $14,025.

The Garden Corner

During fair weather in September is the best time to start that new lawn or repair the old one. Grass should have at least six weeks from time of emergency until freezing weather. This permits the establishment of an adequate root system.

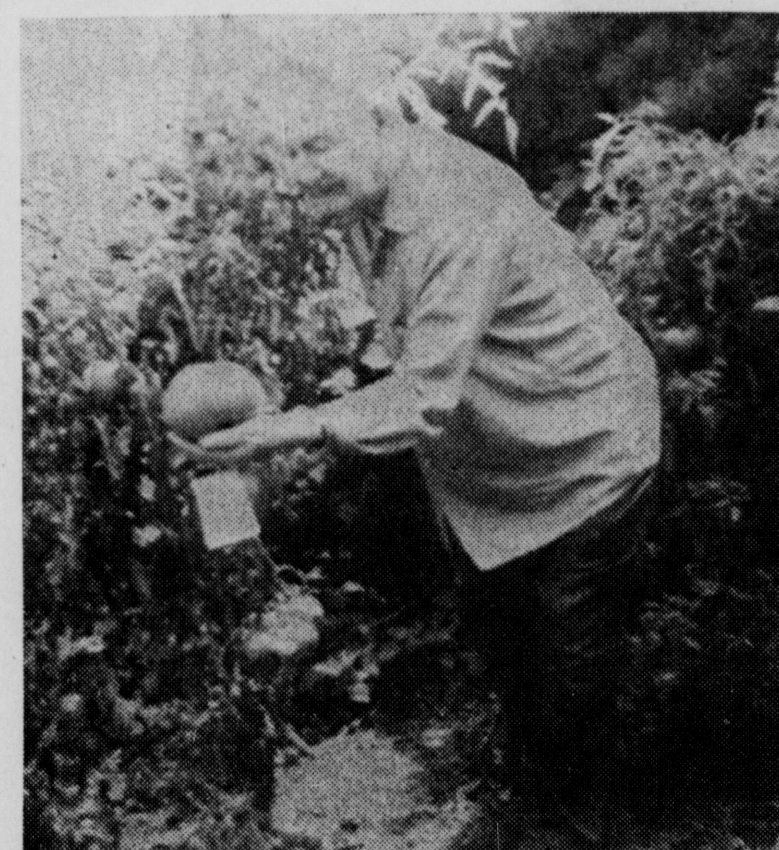

September is the most important time to feed your lawn. Give it its biggest meal now. Kentucky Blue Grass grows wonderfully in the cooler fall weather and weed competition is much less. A well fed turf will winter better, be a healthier spring turf. Kentucky

Blue Grass should have 3 to 4 pounds of actual nitrogen per 100 square feet per year.

This is peony planting time. Try some of the fine tree peonies. They are very hardy and grow into splendid specimens. Do not cut down at any time.

When dividing or replanting the perennial border, work in some bone meal which is high in phosphorus.

When the annuals are gone, sow winter ryegrass as a green manure crop. Turn under very early in the spring and apply 5 pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer for each hundred square feet.

New Windshield Glass Readied

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Development of a stronger safety glass windshield for 1971 model automobiles was announced Thursday by Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. The firm said the new glass would have a higher ability to withstand impact damage and reduce lacerations in the event of an accident.

John A. McClanathan, vice president for automotive glass sales, said the new windshield was developed in a two-year program by the firm's technical center and required destructive testing of about 4,500 production-sized experimental windshields.

If it could be tamed, a prolonged thunder storm might create enough electricity to power a large city for several days.

New Windshield Glass Readied

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Development of a stronger safety glass windshield for 1971 model automobiles was announced Thursday by Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. The firm said the new glass would have a higher ability to withstand impact damage and reduce lacerations in the event of an accident.

John A. McClanathan, vice president for automotive glass sales, said the new windshield was developed in a two-year program by the firm's technical center and required destructive testing of about 4,500 production-sized experimental windshields.

If it could be tamed, a prolonged thunder storm might create enough electricity to power a large city for several days.

County Is 38th For School Tax Expense In Ohio

Pickaway County ranks in the top 40 counties in Ohio for average property taxes per pupil collected for school operations during the 1970 calendar year.

With 37 other counties spending more per student, Pickaway County, for the four local school districts, has a per pupil tax average of $373. Highest in the state is Cuyahoga County, which includes Cleveland and having 32 school districts. Their average per pupil expenditure is $668. Lowest is Meigs County with $129 per pupil.

Charles A. Calhoun, Executive Director of the Ohio Public Expenditure Council, pointed out the wide difference in property tax rates levied in 1970 for school operation within Ohio's 88 counties. In 31 counties this difference exceeded $10 per $1000 of taxable valuation.

In Cuyahoga County, property tax rates for the school operation ranged from a low of $8.90 to a high of $46.20 per $1,000 of taxable value.

In Pickaway County, the low is $18 and the high $25.60. This is $2.50 less than the statewide average of $28.10 per $1,000.

The Ohio Public Expenditure Council is a statewide nonprofit, non-partisan research organization dedicated to promoting governmental efficiency and economy by keeping the taxpayer and the public informed concerning the taxation and spending programs of local government.

Incentive Plan Fights Litter

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The suburb La Victoria has come up with an incentive plan to help in its campaign against litter-bugs.

The town council said persons who inform authorities about litter-bugs will receive half of the fine paid by the offenders.

Four Ashville Boys Charged In Small Theft

Four boys, 8 to 14 years of age and all living in the Ashville area, were found guilty of stealing a number of items from a drugstore there and were placed on probation.

Pickaway County Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline gave all four probationary terms of three years each and ordered them to make restitution for articles they took and damaged.

Taken from the store were several billfolds, three pairs of sunglasses, two watchbands, three boxes of caps and two combs.

In other cases a 10-year-old boy whose parents' addresses are unknown, was placed under the permanent care of Pickaway County Children's Services. Foster parents who have cared for him are seeking to adopt the youth.

One traffic case involving a 17 year-old London boy was transferred to the Madison County juvenile court on a charge of failing to keep assured clear distance, causing an accident.

Arthur L. Tacket, Route 2, London, was cited in an injury accident Sept. 11 when he attempted to pass a car on Route 22 which had slowed to make a left turn.

LE Boosters To Discontinue Card Parties

The Logan Elm Booster Club met Monday at Logan Elm High School. Mrs. Frank R. Lands, conducted the business meeting. The group decided to discontinue the monthly card parties.

The Booster Club voted to pay $100 for spats for the Logan Elm Band and to pay for one-half of the cost of the football players insurance.

Mrs. Dale Riddle, chairman of the community birthday calendar, reported that the project was a successful one.

The Booster Club voted to send a delegate to Girls' State next summer.

Mrs. Lands appointed the following committees: Football Booth — Mr. and Mrs. Roger Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mayberry, and Mrs. Vic Pontius.

Membership — Mr. and Mrs. David Justus, Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender, Mr. and Mrs. Hursel Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Max Luckhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Justice.

Budget — Mrs. S. J. Fischer, Nelson Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCoy.

Final plans for the Pumpkin Show Food Booth will be made at the October 12 meeting.

The caller in each case said he had a friend who planned to hijack the flight.

The plane left two minutes late after no weapons were found on the passengers or in their baggage.

The device was put into operation one day early because of anonymous telephone calls that someone was planning to hijack the flight. Calls were received and reported by The Associated Press, the Cincinnati Enquirer and the FBI.

NEW YORK (AP) — Flip Wilson, whose antics have brightened many other stars' shows, arrived on NBC Thursday night as star of his own show. The responsibility of being both host and resident comedian seemed to get in the way of the fun.

Instead of the usual opening dance number or standup monologue, Flip began with the announcement that since a production number would cost $104,000 he had decided to show us the money instead. He did, and a monologue would have gotten the series off to a better start.

David Frost was stiff, awkward and had a tendency to giggle nervously in Flip's sketches. Wilson's comedy just was not working. None of the sketches was particularly witty or bright. The hour needs some emergency treatment.

"Nancy," later on NBC, probably should be called a woman's show and has a lot going for it including charm. Nancy, played by Renne Jarrett, is the daughter of the president of the United States. We meet her when she is visiting in Iowa, training a saddle horse and encountering a young veterinarian, another newcomer, John Fink.

It's love at first sight, but he does not know who she is. When he finds out, girl loses boy. Then boy and girl are reunited—and there will be wedding bells a couple of episodes hence.

There was some amusing stuff about the ever-present Secret Service. Celeste Holm plays a breezy companion-chaperone and has most of the funny lines.

CBS's Thursday night movie started its new season with a made-for-TV thriller called "The Brotherhood of the Bell." It was a handsome, slick production and had Glenn Ford giving a believable performance as a man driven by guilt to expose a sinister conspiracy.

The story opened at an initiation ceremony with Ford assigned to force a close friend not to take an important position. The friend killed himself.

Then the story seemed padded as Ford sought to find someone who would believe the secret brotherhood existed, and it just drifted to an inconclusive end as he found the person but the society was never exposed. Leaving untied ends is unfair to detective story viewers.

Cloud Assails Gilligan's 'Lack Of Qualifications'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Roger Cloud has described his Democratic opponent for governor, John J. Gilligan, as a "perennial candidate" who has "no background for Ohio's toughest job."

Leveling his harshest blast of the campaign at Gilligan, Cloud told a partisan audience in Plaquemine Thursday night:

"My opponent has no experience in state government. He has no experience in management or administration."

"His background is that of a perennial candidate who has run in 11 elections in the last 10 years. His approach is based on irresponsible logic."

Cloud accused Gilligan of being soft on campus demonstrators, saying his statements about college disorders "show tolerance beyond reason."

Cloud and Gilligan were scheduled to make a joint appearance today before the staff of the Cincinnati Post and Times Star in Cincinnati.

Elsewhere in state politics Thursday, the two major candidates for the U.S. Senate, Democrat Howard Metzenbaum and Republican Robert Taft Jr., both discussed the campus disorders issue.

Metzenbaum, touring the northeastern corner of the state, called on college administrators to take firm action against "anarchists who threaten to hijack American higher education."

President Shops As Traffic Stops

CHICAGO (AP) — Because of a traffic jam, President Nixon has acquired eight new neckties.

He jumped out of his car when his motorcade was stalled in the Loop Thursday and walked a block to the Marshall Field & Co. store.

There he picked out seven four-in-hand cravats and one bow tie with price tags totaling around $70.

It being presidential tradition that the chief executive carries no ready cash, an aide picked up the tab.

He said lines of communications should be established between administrators and students so they can work together to "separate violent revolutionaries from peaceful dissenters before trouble erupts."

Administrators should make plans to deal with lawlessness, he said, and if these plans fail "fulltime law enforcement agencies — especially trained units of the highway patrol — should be called."

Taft, speaking at a Republican rally in Bowling Green, called for early enactment of his campus unrest legislation introduced in Congress.

His bill would require states to set out procedures for state-supported colleges and universities to follow in the event of campus disruption. Institutions failing to adopt procedures would face a cut-off of federal funds.

Taft scored the Democratic majority in Congress for letting President Nixon's 10-bill crime package "stagnate," despite growing evidence that new anti-crime laws are needed.

County Is 38th For School Tax Expense In Ohio

Pickaway County ranks in the top 40 counties in Ohio for average property taxes per pupil collected for school operations during the 1970 calendar year.

With 37 other counties spending more per student, Pickaway County, for the four local school districts, has a per pupil tax average of $373. Highest in the state is Cuyahoga County, which includes Cleveland and having 32 school districts. Their average per pupil expenditure is $668. Lowest is Meigs County with $129 per pupil.

Charles A. Calhoun, Executive Director of the Ohio Public Expenditure Council, pointed out the wide difference in property tax rates levied in 1970 for school operation within Ohio's 88 counties. In 31 counties this difference exceeded $10 per $1000 of taxable valuation.

In Cuyahoga County, property tax rates for the school operation ranged from a low of $8.90 to a high of $46.20 per $1,000 of taxable value.

In Pickaway County, the low is $18 and the high $25.60. This is $2.50 less than the statewide average of $28.10 per $1,000.

The Ohio Public Expenditure Council is a statewide nonprofit, non-partisan research organization dedicated to promoting governmental efficiency and economy by keeping the taxpayer and the public informed concerning the taxation and spending programs of local government.

Four Ashville Boys Charged In Small Theft

Four boys, 8 to 14 years of age and all living in the Ashville area, were found guilty of stealing a number of items from a drugstore there and were placed on probation.

Pickaway County Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline gave all four probationary terms of three years each and ordered them to make restitution for articles they took and damaged.

Taken from the store were several billfolds, three pairs of sunglasses, two watchbands, three boxes of caps and two combs.

In other cases a 10-year-old boy whose parents' addresses are unknown, was placed under the permanent care of Pickaway County Children's Services. Foster parents who have cared for him are seeking to adopt the youth.

One traffic case involving a 17 year-old London boy was transferred to the Madison County juvenile court on a charge of failing to keep assured clear distance, causing an accident.

Arthur L. Tackett, Route 2, London, was cited in an injury accident Sept. 11 when he attempted to pass a car on Route 22 which had slowed to make a left turn.

NEW YORK (AP) — Flip Wilson, whose antics have brightened many other stars' shows, arrived on NBC Thursday night as star of his own show. The responsibility of being both host and resident comedian seemed to get in the way of the fun.

Instead of the usual opening dance number or standup monologue, Flip began with the announcement that since a production number would cost $104,000 he had decided to show us the money instead. He did, and a monologue would have gotten the series off to a better start.

David Frost was stiff, awkward and had a tendency to giggle nervously in Flip's sketches.

Wilson's comedy just was not working. None of the sketches was particularly witty or bright. The hour needs some emergency treatment.

"Nancy," later on NBC, probably should be called a woman's show and has a lot going for it including charm. Nancy, played by Renne Jarrett, is the daughter of the president of the United States. We meet her when she is visiting in Iowa, training a saddle horse and encountering a young veterinarian, another newcomer, John Fink.

It's love at first sight, but he does not know who she is. When he finds out, girl loses boy. Then boy and girl are reunited—and there will be wedding bells a couple of episodes hence.

There was some amusing stuff about the ever-present Secret Service. Celeste Holm plays a breezy companion-chaperone and has most of the funny lines.

CBS's Thursday night movie started its new season with a made-for-TV thriller called "The Brotherhood of the Bell." It was a handsome, slick production and had Glenn Ford giving a believable performance as a man driven by guilt to expose a sinister conspiracy.

The story opened at an initiation ceremony with Ford assigned to force a close friend not to take an important position. The friend killed himself.

Then the story seemed padded as Ford sought to find someone who would believe the secret brotherhood existed, and it just drifted to an inconclusive end as he found the person but the society was never exposed. Leaving untied ends is unfair to detective story viewers.

Cloud Assails Gilligan's 'Lack Of Qualifications'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Roger Cloud has described his Democratic opponent for governor, John J. Gilligan, as a "perennial candidate" who has "no background for Ohio's toughest job."

Leveling his harshest blast of the campaign at Gilligan, Cloud told a partisan audience in Piqua Thursday night:

"My opponent has no experience in state government. He has no experience in management or administration."

"His background is that of a perennial candidate who has run in 11 elections in the last 10 years. His approach is based on irresponsible logic."

Cloud accused Gilligan of being soft on campus demonstrators, saying his statements about college disorders "show tolerance beyond reason."

Cloud and Gilligan were scheduled to make a joint appearance today before the staff of the Cincinnati Post and Times Star in Cincinnati.

Elsewhere in state politics Thursday, the two major candidates for the U.S. Senate, Democrat Howard Metzenbaum and Republican Robert Taft Jr., both discussed the campus disorders issue.

Metzenbaum, touring the northeastern corner of the state, called on college administrators to take firm action against "anarchists who threaten to hijack American higher education."

Reds Clinch Championship With Major League Record

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, who clinched the West Division championship of the National League Thursday have been out of first place only one day since the season started April 6.

That one day was on April 11 when the San Francisco Giants beat the Reds and took over the first spot. The next day, the Reds won a doubleheader from the Giants and moved back in front to stay.

The Reds will set a major league record of being in first place for 178 playing days. That will break the old mark of 174 set by the then New York Giants in 1923 and the New York Yankees in 1927. The records were set, of course, in the days of a 154-game schedule while the teams now play 162.

The Reds were favored in a preseason Associated Press poll of baseball writers and broadcasters to win the West Division title but no one expected them to make such a runaway of it.

In the first place, they were starting with a rookie manager, George "Sparky" Anderson. He was a fellow with nothing more than an excellent managerial record in the lower minor leagues and often was referred to as "Sparky who?" by rabid Cincinnati fans.

The pitching, notably weak in the past several seasons, was decidedly suspect. A hard-hitting, if temperamental, left fielder had been traded away for a pitcher who hadn't done much in the last year or two. The shortstop spot still wasn't definitely filled.

What has happened? Everything—and more—has jelled.

The pitching as handled by Anderson and pitching coach Larry Shepard provided the biggest surprise—and Anderson

Clay's Way Cleared For Boxing License

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Cassius Clay's move as far as fighting in New York is concerned.

The New York State Athletic Commission said Thursday it would consider Clay's application for a license in the state whenever he applies.

Clay, also known as Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his heavyweight championship by the New York commission and other boxing governing bodies when he was convicted June 20, 1967 of refusing to accept military service, and the New York commission turned down Clay's request for a license last Oct. 14.

Washington Senator pitchers hurled only five complete games in the first 76 games the American Leaguers played this season.

Orioles Celebrate Division Win

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game.

At Cleveland, Sudden Sam McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league seasons, then took one quick sip of champagne to accommodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games, Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and

Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.
In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis pounded the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Houston slammed Los Angeles 10-5 and San Francisco nudged San Diego 4-3.

The Orioles were riding a bus from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning at New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that

Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.
Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

"The first half of the season is over," proclaimed Coach Billy Hunter. "The next half starts in October."

Montreal for a two-night doubleheader.
Bobby Heise drove in three runs with a pair of singles, leading San Francisco past San Diego, Nate Colbert and Ivan Durie homered for the Padres.

Bob Watson's grand slam homer capped a six-run Houston explosion in the seventh inning that carried the Astros past the Dodgers. Denis Menke had a two-run shot for Houston.

The victory wiped out the last chance for any team to catch the Reds, who have been runaway leaders in the West Division all season.

Mets Don't Play, Gain Ground In League

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Mets have discovered the knack of gaining ground in the topsy, turvy National League East race. They simply don't play.

The Mets took the day off Thursday and consequently couldn't lose. The same couldn't be said of first place Pittsburgh and third place Chicago. The Pirates and Cubs foolishly showed up for their games and lost, allowing the Mets to gain ground on both of them.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 3-2, cutting the Pirates' lead to 1½ games over New York. The Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-2 and remained two games behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, San Francisco nipped San Diego 4-3 and Houston whipped Los Angeles 10-5, eliminating the Dodgers and clinching the West Division race for idle Cincinnati.

Traditionally, pennant races are described in terms of the "all-important loss column." If you're a traditionalist, the Pirates have a two-game edge there. But in this race, it seems that it's the all-important win column. The NL East contenders find it's easy to lose. But winning. Ah, winning has become quite a job for them.

Over the last nine games, for example, first place Pittsburgh is 4-5 — the same as second place New York. Chicago has charged into contention with a 5-4 mark over the same period.

The Pirates fell victim to a suicide squeeze bunt against the Phillies, spoiling the comeback of Dock Ellis, who made his first start in seven weeks.

Ellis was leading 2-1 when he was lifted after six innings of work. Don Money walked with one out against reliever John Lamb and then scooted home with the tying run on Ron Stone's triple.

Pinch hitter Terry Harmon followed with the squeeze bunt as Stone carried the winning run home.

The Pirates threatened in the eighth when Gene Clines opened with a double, a third hit the game, and Jose Pagan followed with a single. But Clines was cut down at the plate on Scott Reid's throw to preserve the victory for the Phillies.

The Cubs, meanwhile, absorbed a 22-hit pounding at the hands of the Cardinals with Joe Torre, Lou Brock and Luis Melendez collecting four apiece.

Torre had a triple, two doubles and a single, completing the three-game series with 10 hits in 13 at bats. In 15 games against the Cubs this year, Torre is batting .594. Melendez had four straight singles and Brock two doubles and two singles.

The race resumes tonight with the Pirates in New York—a game one of the teams will probably win—and the Cubs in

Forecaster Sees Vikings Over Kansas City Chiefs

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The memory of their Super Bowl humiliation and the bitter taste of Hank Stram's off-the-cuff comments in the film version of the game should fire the Minnesota Vikings to an early peak for Sunday's rematch with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Although Joe Kapp will be among the missing and Gary Cuozzo will be at the controls, the old hand picker still sticks with the Vikings to win the opener.

A full schedule of 13 National Football League games stretches from tonight through Monday with only one interconference game—the Chiefs and Vikings. It looks like a rough year ahead but here goes with the first stabs:

Friday Night

Los Angeles 27, St. Louis 21—Roman Gabriel vs. young Jim Hart with that Ram rush putting the big heat on Hart. Les Josephson will miss opener, Willie Elpison taking his place. New look Cards have six changes. This is the year of the Rams.

Saturday Night

New York 24, Chicago 17—Giants won't be trying any on-side kickoff in final minutes this time. Fran Tarkenton, with running help from Ron Johnson and Tucker Frederickson, should get enough points to standoff Gale Sayers' stunts. Jack Concannon starting pitcher for Bears.

Sunday

Minnesota 23, Kansas City 21—The big test for Gary Cuozzo as Joe Kapp's replacement and a chance for the Chiefs to make up for some of their Super Bowl embarrassments. Although both coaches talk about "just another game," this one will be for blood.

Oakland 28, Cincinnati 17—Capacity crowd at New Riverfront Stadium will whoop it up for Paul Brown's Bengals but they still have a quarterback problem. The Lamonia-Stabler combo too tough for Cincinnati defense.

Pittsburgh 21, Houston 20—Terry Bradshaw vs. Charley Taylor, the new vs. the old. Steeler pass defense has been amazing but Johnson will give it the big test with his bag of tricks. Three Rivers Stadium will be loaded, hoping to hall a new instant hero in Bradshaw to lead them to the promised land after so many failures.

Green Bay 14, Detroit 13—Tempted to call this one a tie. Packers seem to be on the way back as long as Bart Starr stays healthy but Lions are hungry and tough. Loss of Steve Owens tough break for Detroit but Mel Farr is in top shape with Altie Taylor to help. A typical Pack-Lion cruncher.

Baltimore 21, San Diego 14—Norm Bulaich gives Colts running partner for Tom Matte and takes some of the heat off John Unitas. John Hadji gets call over injured Marty Domres after splitting summer work. Lance Alworth limping so rookie Walker Gillette will take his place for Chargers.

Washington 27, San Francisco 24—An upset with 49ers favored at home. Redskins in high spirits after beating Colts in final exhibition game, determined to get away fast. Sonny Jurgensen must carry the load against John Brodie.

Atlanta 21, New Orleans 17—Norm Van Brocklin has Falcons wheed up for quick getaway with Bob Berry throwing and Cannonball Butler and Harmon Wages to run the ball. Tommy Nobis back at middle linebacker. Saints' usually strong ground game crippled by injuries to Andy Livingston.

Dallas 31, Philadelphia 10—Cowboys have chance to get well at expense of floundering Eagles, who still are experimenting with secondary. Don't

Rich Bassett Takes Lead In Robinson Golf Tourney

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP)—When you have sponsors like Jackie Gleason and TV producer Jack Philbin there's not too much to worry about, says slender Rich Bassett, surprise first round leader of the $100,000 Robinson Golf Classic.

Bassett, 29, former Duke University player, is a non-winner since joining the PGA tourney trial in 1967. He collected only $4,879 last year and so far this season his earnings are $1,012. Bassett birdied eight of the first 12 holes of the par 35-36—71 Crawford country Club Thursday and finished with a sizzling 30-35-65.

"If I'm lucky enough to win the $20,000 first prize, I'll just about be even with my sponsors," he said. "I've been practicing hard, mainly on chipping and putting, and maybe it will start paying off."

Bassett, of Miami, Fla., said the Gleason-Philbin combine has been backing him on the tour for the last 3½ years. He met them while working at Shawnee Inn in Pennsylvania.

Only a stroke behind as the tourney enters the second round Friday is Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion and winner three weeks ago of golf's biggest gest jackpot — $60,000 in the Dow Jones Open. Nichols had seven one-putt greens in building a pair of 33's for 66.

Nearly one-third of the field of 147 broke par. But favorite Frank Beard and defending champion Bob Goalby had to settle for 73 and 72, respectively, as they finished in the rain.

Another favorite, young Larry Hinson, deuced the short last hole for a 67 to join 10 others in that bracket — veterans Charlie Sifford, George Archer and George Knudson, and lesser lights Bob Stone, Hale Irwin, Gene Ferrell, Bob Erickson, Jerry Hatfield, Grier Jones and Bob Payne.

Nine others were grouped at 68. All were little-known performers and included Hal Underwood of Humble, Tex. who ached the 180-yard 8th and eagled the 557-yard 12th.

Orioles Celebrate Division Win

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game. At Cleveland, Sudden Sam

McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league seasons, then took one quick sip of champagne to accommodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games, Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and

Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis pounded the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Houston slammed Los Angeles 10-5 and San Francisco nudged San Diego 4-3.

The Orioles were riding a bus from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning at New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that

Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.

Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

"The first half of the season is over," proclaimed Coach Billy Hunter. "The next half starts in October."

Mets Don't Play, Gain Ground In League

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Mets have discovered the knack of gaining ground in the topsy, turvy National League East race. They simply don't play.

The Mets took the day off Thursday and consequently couldn't lose. The same couldn't be said of first place Pittsburgh and third place Chicago. The Pirates and Cubs foolishly showed up for their games and lost, allowing the Mets to gain ground on both of them.

Philadelphia knocked off Pittsburgh 3-2, cutting the Pirates' lead to 1 1/2 games over New York. The Cubs bowed to St. Louis 9-2 and remained two games behind.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, San Francisco nipped San Diego 4-3 and Houston whipped Los Angeles 10-5, eliminating the Dodgers and clinching the West Division race for idle Cincinnati.

Traditionally, pennant races are described in terms of the "all-important loss column." If you're a traditionalist, the Pirates have a two-game edge there. But in this race, it seems that it's the all-important win column. The NL East contenders find it's easy to lose. But winning. Ah, winning has become quite a job for them. Over the last nine games, for example, first place Pittsburgh is 4-5 — the same as second place New York. Chicago has charged into contention with a 5-4 mark over the same period.

The Pirates fell victim to a suicide squeeze bunt against the Phillies, spoiling the comeback of Dock Ellis, who made his first start in seven weeks.

Ellis was leading 2-1 when he was lifted after six innings of work. Don Money walked with one out against reliever John Lamb and then scooted home with the tying run on Ron Stone's triple.

Pinch hitter Terry Harmon followed with the squeeze bunt as Stone carried the winning run home.

The Pirates threatened in the eighth when Gene Clines opened with a double, is third hit of the game, and Jose Pagan followed with a single. But Clines was cut down at the plate on Scott Reid's throw to preserve the victory for the Phillies.

The Cubs, meanwhile, absorbed a 22-hit pounding at the hands of the Cardinals with Joe Torre, Lou Brock and Luis Melendez collecting four apiece.

Torre had a triple, two doubles and a single, completing the three-game series with 10 hits in 13 at bats. In 15 games against the Cubs this year, Torre is batting .554. Melendez had four straight singles and Brock two doubles and two singles.

The race resumes tonight with the Pirates in New York—a game one of the teams will probably win—and the Cubs in Montreal for a two-night double-header.

Bobby Heise drove in three runs with a pair of singles, leading San Francisco past San Diego. Nate Colbert and Ivan Murrel homered for the Padres.

Bob Watson's grand slam homer capped a six-run Houston

Reds Clinch Championship With Major League Record

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, who clinched the West Division championship of the National League Thursday have been out of first place only one day since the season started April 6.

That one day was on April 11 when the San Francisco Giants beat the Reds and took over the first spot. The next day, the Reds won a doubleheader from the Giants and moved back in front to stay.

The Reds will set a major league record of being in first place for 178 playing days. That will break the old mark of 174 set by the then New York Giants in 1923 and the New York Yankees in 1927. The records were set, of course, in the days of a 154-game schedule while the teams now play 162.

The Reds were favored in a preseason Associated Press poll of baseball writers and broadcasters to win the West Division title but no one expected them to make such a runaway of it.

In the first place, they were starting with a rookie manager, George "Sparky" Anderson. He was a fellow with nothing more than an excellent managerial record in the lower minor leagues and often was referred to as "Sparky who?" by rabid Cincinnati fans.

The pitching, notably weak in the past several seasons, was decidedly suspect. A hard-hitting, if temperamental, left fielder had been traded away for a pitcher who hadn't done much in the last year or two. The shortstop spot still wasn't definitely filled.

What has happened? Everything—and more—has jelled.

The pitching as handled by Anderson and pitching coach Larry Shepard provided the biggest surprise—and Anderson gives the credit to Shepard, a former Pittsburgh Pirate manager.

The trade which took Alex Johnson from the Reds brought Jim McGlothlin from the California Angels. Rookie Wayne Simpson was brought in from the Indianapolis farm club.

That left veterans Jim Maloney and Jim Merritt and young Gary Nolan, a sore-armed disappointment last year, to fill out the staff.

Maloney ripped an Achilles tendon on April 16 in only his second start and was lost until September.

But, here came Simpson, McGlothlin, Merritt and Nolan to turn in brilliant rotation performances and give the Reds a 10-game lead at the All-Star break.

Star reliever Clay Carroll was out for a week beginning Aug. 7. But Tony Cloninger, a decided disappointment, suddenly moved into a starting spot and built up a winning record as a starter after having been clobbered as a reliever. In the early stages of September, the Reds hauled in Milt Wilcox from Indianapolis.

He won his first two starts, one of them a shutout over Los Angeles, after the Reds had dropped two of three to San Francisco.

Clay's Way Cleared For Boxing License

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Casius Clay's move as far as fighting in New York is concerned.

The New York State Athletic Commission said Thursday it would consider Clay's application for a license in the state whenever he applies.

Clay, also known as Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his heavyweight championship by the New York commission and other boxing governing bodies when he was convicted June 20, 1967 of refusing to accept military service, and the New York commission turned down Clay's request for a license last Oct. 14.

Washington Senator pitchers hurled only five complete games in the first 76 games the American Leaguers played this season.

Forecaster Sees Vikings Over Kansas City Chiefs

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The memory of their Super Bowl humiliation and the bitter taste of Hank Stram's off-the-cuff comments in the film version of the game should fire the Minnesota Vikings to an early peak for Sunday's rematch with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Although Joe Kapp will be among the missing and Gary Cuozzo will be at the controls, the old Hand picker still sticks with the Vikings to win the opener.

A full schedule of 13 National Football League games stretches from tonight through Monday with only one interconference game—the Chiefs and Vikings. It looks like a rough year ahead but here goes with the first stabs:

Friday Night

Los Angeles 27, St. Louis 21—Roman Gabriel vs young Jim Hart with that Ram rush putting the big heat on Hart. Les Josephson will miss opener. Willie Elpison taking his place. New look Cards have six changes. This is the year of the Rams.

Saturday Night

New York 24, Chicago 17—Giants won't be trying any on-side kickoff in final minutes this time. Fran Tarkenton, with running help from Ron Johnson and Tucker Frederickson, should get enough, points to standoff Gale Sayers' stunts. Jack Concannon starting pitcher for Bears.

Sunday

Minnesota 23, Kansas City 21—The big test for Gary Cuozzo as Joe Kapp's replacement and a chance for the Chiefs to make up for some of their Super Bowl embarrassments. Although both coaches talk about "just another game," this one will be for blood.

Oakland 28, Cincinnati 17—Capacity crowd at New Riverfront Stadium will whoop it up for Paul Brown's Bengals but they still have a quarterback problem. The Lamonia-Stabler combo too tough for Cincinnati defense.

Pittsburgh 21, Houston 20—Terry Bradshaw vs. Charley Johnson, the new vs. the old. Steeler pass defense has been amazing but Johnson will give it the big test with his bag of tricks. Three Rivers Stadium will be loaded, hoping to hail a new instant hero in Bradshaw to lead them to the promised land after so many failures.

Green Bay 14, Detroit 13—Tempted to call "this one a tie. Packers seem to be on the way back as long as Bart Starr stays healthy but Lions are hungry and tough. Loss of Steve Owens tough break for Detroit but Mel Farr is in top shape with Albie Taylor to help. A typical Pack-Lion cruncher.

Baltimore 21, San Diego 14—Norm Bulaich gives Colts running partner for Tom Matte and takes some of the heat off John Unitas. John Hadl gets call over injured Marty Domres after splitting summer work. Lance Alworth limping so rookie Walker Gillette will take his place for Chargers.

Washington 27, San Francisco 24—An upset with 49ers favored at home. Redskins in high spirits after beating Colts in final exhibition game, determined to get away fast. Sonny Jurgensen must carry the load against John Brodie.

Atlanta 21, New Orleans 17—Norm Van Brocklin has Falcons wheed up for quick getaway with Bob Berry throwing and Cannonball Butler and Harmon Wages to run the ball. Tommy Nobis back at middle linebacker. Saints' usually strong ground game crippled by injuries to Andy Livingston.

Dallas 31, Philadelphia 10—Cowboys have chance to get well at expense of floundering Eagles, who still are experimenting with secondary. Don't (Continued on Page 11)

Action Heavy In Weekend Ohio Grid War

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State waits until next week to open up its top-rated guns, but here's still plenty of fireworks including major college football's first doubleheader on the Ohio schedule Saturday.

The Buckeyes, already atop The Associated Press national rankings without playing a 1970 game, debut in Ohio Stadium next Saturday against Texas A.M.

The Riverfront Stadium twin-bill in Cincinnati pits Miami against Xavier at 4:30 p.m. and Dayton against Cincinnati at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Miami holds a 16-10-3 edge on Xavier and Dayton leads Cincinnati 16-14-1 in the two Southwestern Ohio series.

An uneasiness hangs over the Kent State campus where the revitalized Golden Flashes, behind the bull-like rushes of Don Nottingham, take on Ohio University in a Mid-American Conference opener.

This will be the first major athletic event on the troubled campus since the May 4 disturbances that cost four Kent students their lives.

Toledo, a heavy favorite to win its second straight Mid-American crown, goes for a school record 13th straight triumph at Buffalo. The Rockets were impressive in a 35-2 romp over East Carolina last week.

Bowling Green, considered Toledo's strongest challenger in the league, begins its season at Utah State. The Falcons hope to avenge a penalty-filled 14-6 loss to Utah State in 1969.

The 14-member Ohio Conference launches another campaign with two Saturday night contests. Ohio Wesleyan plays at Heidelberg and Kenyon at Otterbein.

In other afternoon games, Rochester is at Mount Union; Findlay at Waynesburg, Pa.; Westminster, Pa., at Marietta; Adrian, Mich., at Defiance and Bluffton at Taylor, Ind.

Other night contests send West Liberty State, W. Va., to Muskingum, Butler to Akron, Ashland to Baldwin - Wallace and Tennessee Tech to Youngstown.

Fortunes of the Cincinnati Bearcats and Rick Sims has cast his lot with the Quakers of Wilmington.

Both Fletcher and Bryant will be in the Bearcat's starting lineup against the University of Dayton Saturday night at Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium. It will be a unique doubleheader with Miami of Ohio meeting Xavier at 4:30 p.m. followed by the Bearcats and Flyers at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Bryant, a 6-foot-215 pound junior, will start at defensive tackle. Bearcat coaches are high on Bryant and feel he brings speed and quickness to the position. He is noted for being able to get to the ball carrier and thrives on solid contact.

According to the Cats coaches, Bryant is somewhat small for the position but more than makes up for it with desire and enthusiasm.

He lettered as a middle guard in 1968 but sat out last season with an injury.

In Cincinnati's opening game, a narrow loss to Tulsa, Bryant was a terror on defense and figured in 10 tackles. He is rated as a well disciplined player and gives 110 per cent at all times.

Fletcher, a 6-foot, 197-pound senior, will be a starting linebacker for the second year in a row.

Bearcat coaches rate Fletcher as having excellent speed and the aggressive kind who "really sticks 'em." He is on or near the ball 99 per cent of the time and is a deadly tackler.

He is noted for having tremendous attitude and always trying to improve. Fletcher is also credited with a lot of desire and is a fine team player.

He was second on the squad in tackles last year, averaging 8.4 a game. He clinched last year's win over William and Mary by intercepting a pass and returning it 32 yards for a touchdown in the final minute.

In the season opener with Tulsa, Fletcher was in on 18 tackles and blocked a field goal attempt.

Fletcher and Bryant were co-captains of the Circleville High School football squad and graduated in 1967. Bryant went to Cincinnati while Fletcher spent two years at Northeast Oklahoma Junior College before coming to Cincinnati last year.

Rick Sims is only a freshman but has already gained a defensive back spot on the Wilmington Quaker team.

He graduated from Circleville High School in 1969 where he was an outstanding grinder.

Sims was captain of the Tigers in his senior year playing both offense and defense for the Red and Black.

He will come under the tutelage of Wilmington Coach Bill Atsalis who will be remembered as coach of the Hillsboro Indians for seven years.

Fletcher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher, 164 Town St. Bryant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Bryant, Route 1, Ashville and Sims is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims Jr., 120 High St.

Devlin Leads Alcan Golf In Ireland

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP) — Bruce Devlin, a 32-year-old former master plumber and now a golf course architect, went into the second round of the Alcan Golfer of the Year Championship today with a three stroke lead over Americans Lee Trevino and Bert Yancey, and said:

"If this wind keeps up, then, I'll be lucky."

Devlin, an Australian who now lives in Florida, shot a three under par 69 over Portmarnock's 7,117-yards par 72 course beside the Irish Sea.

He was followed after the first round by Trevino, of El Paso, Tex., former U.S. Open champion, and Yancey of Pompano Beach Fla. with 72's.

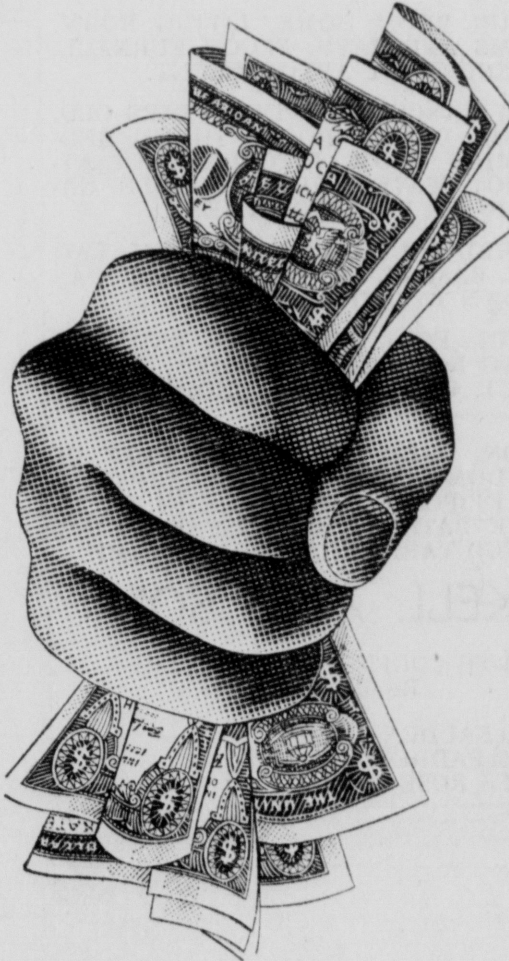

Devlin said "Those winds yesterday built up terribly and anybody able to control them was lucky. I happened to be lucky."

Dave Hill of Evergreen Colo., the second money winner on the American circuit last year, finished last in the field of 26 with an 83 and said, "well, how do you manage to even stand up on the green to putt in this sort of weather? I can play well in warm weather, but I certainly find it difficult in this sort of atmosphere."

Yes, Virginia, there still are some nice people in this world. How about Circleville Football Coach Denny Williams and Circleville Police Chief Bob Temple for starters?

Last Friday, with everything else these two gentlemen had on their minds, they found time to make a young man happy.

Williams called Temple and told him he would like to have Jimmy (Peanuts) Barker, the little league star who had a leg amputated this summer, at Grove City as a guest of the Tiger football squad but needed transportation.

The chief assured Williams he would see that the youth had a ride and would be taken care of at the game.

We are sure that everyone at the game saw a happy young man in a wheelchair sitting next to the Tiger bench. He had a fine evening due to the efforts of these two men and left the park a delighted and tired boy.

We're sure he slept well Friday night and we think maybe two guys also slept a little easier for the nice thing they did for someone else.

Our little gem of information — The New York Yankees of the early 1930s went two full seasons, 303 games, without being shutout. The Philadelphia A's Lefty Grove finally stopped them, 7-0, on Aug. 3, 1933.

Our "fearless" forecast — At the risk of being hung — remember ropes are expensive in Ashville — Circleville will edge Teays Valley in a real donnybrook . . . Westfall to down Madison South . . . Logan Elm will start a winning streak at Carroll . . . Missouri will down Minnesota in the TV game of the week . . . Cowboys will shoot down the Eagles . . . Raiders to beat the Bengals . . . Browns to get the Jets.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Former Circleville Gridders Figure In Plans Of Bearcats And Quakers

RON BRYANT

Three former Circleville High School football players are making themselves heard on the college grid scene and are important factors in the fate of the University of Cincinnati and Wilmington College.

Tom Fletcher and Ron Bryant have prominent spots in the

Action Heavy In Weekend Ohio Grid War

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State waits until next week to open up its top-rated guns, but here's still plenty of fireworks including major college football's first doubleheader on the Ohio schedule Saturday.

The Buckeyes, already atop The Associated Press national rankings without playing a 1970 game, debut in Ohio Stadium next Saturday against Texas A.M.

The Riverfront Stadium twin-bill in Cincinnati pits Miami against Xavier at 4:30 p.m. and Dayton against Cincinnati at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Miami holds a 16-10-3 edge on Xavier and Dayton leads Cincinnati 16-14-1 in the two Southwestern Ohio series.

An uneasiness hangs over the Kent State campus where the revitalized Golden Flashes, behind the bull-like rushes of Don Nottingham, take on Ohio University in a Mid-American Conference opener.

This will be the first major athletic event on the troubled campus since the May 4 disturbances that cost four Kent students their lives.

Toledo, a heavy favorite to win its second straight Mid-American crown, goes for a school record 13th straight triumph at Buffalo. The Rockets were impressive in a 35-2 romp over East Carolina last week.

Bowling Green, considered Toledo's strongest challenger in the league, begins its season at Utah State. The Falcons hope to avenge a penalty-filled 14-6 loss to Utah State in 1969.

The 14-member Ohio Conference launches another campaign with two Saturday night contests. Ohio Wesleyan plays at Heidelberg and Kenyon at Otterbein.

In other afternoon games, Rochester is at Mount Union; Findlay at Waynesburg, Pa.; Westminster, Pa., at Marietta; Adrian, Mich., at Defiance and Bluffton at Taylor, Ind.

Other night contests send West Liberty State, W. Va., to Muskingum, Butler to Akron, Ashland to Baldwin - Wallace and Tennessee Tech to Youngstown.

fortunes of the Cincinnati Bearcats and Rick Sims has cast his lot with the Quakers of Wilmington.

Both Fletcher and Bryant will be in the Bearcat's starting lineup against the University of Dayton Saturday night at Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium. It will be a unique doubleheader with Miami of Ohio meeting Xavier at 4:30 p.m. followed by the Bearcats and Flyers at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Bryant, a 6-foot-2½ pound junior, will start at defensive tackle. Bearcat coaches are high on Bryant and feel he brings speed and quickness to the position. He is noted for being able to get to the ball carrier and thrives on solid contact.

ACCORDING to the Cats coaches, Bryant is somewhat small for the position but more than makes up for it with desire and enthusiasm.

He lettered as a middle guard in 1968 but sat out last season with an injury.

In Cincinnati's opening game, a narrow loss to Tulsa, Bryant was a terror on defense and figured in 10 tackles. He is rated as a well disciplined

RICK SIMS
Wilmington College

player and gives 110 per cent at all times.

Fletcher, a 6-foot, 197-pound senior, will be a starting linebacker for the second year in a row.

Bearcat coaches rate Fletcher as having excellent speed and the aggressive kind who "really sticks 'em." He is on or near the ball 99 per cent of the time and is a deadly tackler.

He is noted for having tremendous attitude and always trying to improve. Fletcher is also credited with a lot of desire and is a fine team player.

HE was second on the squad in tackles last year, averaging 8.4 a game. He clinched last year's win over William and Mary by intercepting a pass and returning it 32 yards for a touchdown in the final minute.

In the season opener with Tulsa, Fletcher was in on 18 tackles and blocked a field goal attempt.

Fletcher and Bryant were co-captains of the Circleville High School football squad and graduated in 1967. Bryant went to Cincinnati while Fletcher spent two years at Northeast Oklahoma Junior College before coming to Cincinnati last year.

Rick Sims is only a freshman but has already gained a defensive back spot on the Wilmington Quaker team.

He graduated from Circleville High School in 1969 where he was an outstanding gridder.

Sims was captain of the Tigers in his senior year playing both offense and defense for the Red and Black.

HE will come under the tutelage of Wilmington Coach Bill Atsals who will be remembered as coach of the Hillsboro Indians for seven years.

Fletcher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher, 164 Town St. Bryant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Bryant, Route 1, Ashville and Sims is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims Jr., 120 High St.

Single Bank Holding Firm Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, ignoring charges it had yielded to an unprecedented lobbying campaign, has approved an exemption-riddled bill regulating the sudden growth of one-bank holding companies.

"This bill started out to regulate one-bank holding companies and ends up exempting most of them," declared Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., as the Senate approved the measure 77-1 Wednesday night.

Proxmire, who cast the lone negative vote, called the measure a mockery and a major step backward. In 13 years in the Senate, he said, he had "never witnessed a more intense lobbying campaign in behalf of special interests."

The bill was sent to conference with the House, which, passed a much tougher version earlier this year.

Under both bills, holding companies that include one bank would be regulated for the first time under provisions of a 1956 act that barred companies controlling two or more banks from branching into unrelated fields.

One-bank holding companies were excluded then and again in 1966 in a House passed bill because Congress felt they posed no threat to the established policy of separating banking from other commercial enterprises.

Administration officials who supported the legislation said, however, one-bank holding companies have grown dramatically since 1967 until some 90 companies now control 40 per cent of the nation's bank deposits.

Exempted under the Senate bill are companies with banks with a net worth of less than $3 million. Also exempted are companies holding a bank whose net worth does not exceed 25 per cent of the combined net worth of the holding company or $50 million, whichever is less.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has disclosed that Rep. Martin B. McKneally, R-N.Y., apparently filed no income tax returns for the years 1964-67.

The IRS said under questioning Wednesday that it received returns from McKneally for 1968, the year he was elected, and last year, but had "no record" for the previous four years.

"Mr. McKneally's tax status is being looked into by the IRS but no further comment can be made on the matter at this time," a spokesman said.

McKneally, former national commander of the American Legion and practicing New York City lawyer, issued a statement through an aide declaring "I do not owe any taxes, but the government does owe me substantial tax refunds."

"All my income was subject to withholding and I was over-withheld," He declined further comment, saying the matter was in the hands of his lawyers.

Indict Pair For Murder

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — Indictments of first-degree murder have been returned against two Kenton youths in the Aug. 17 slaying of Robert Vincent, 37, of Sylvania.

The Hardin County grand jury filed the charges Wednesday against Gary L. Nichols, 19, and Donald L. Bailey, 18. Sheriff's deputies said Vincent was apparently killed during a robbery attempt. His body was found on the banks of the Scioto River, east of Kenton.

Nichols and Bailey are also indicted for malicious destruction of property in the $34,000 damage to a local cemetery.

In another case, the grand jury indicted Bernie Manns, 26, of Belle Center on two counts of first-degree homicide by motor vehicle in the Sept. 6 traffic deaths of two men on Ohio 292 south of Kenton.

Killed in the accident were James E. Douth, 18, of Polk, Pa., and Eugene C. Hawkins, 45 of Midway.

Woman Jumps From 3rd Floor Onto Officer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland woman wanted for questioning in the stabbing death of a 41-year-old man jumped from the third floor at her home last night, but was caught by a policeman.

Patrolman Robert Sellers said he sprained his back in catching the 150-pound woman, but declined hospital treatment. Sellers is 6-foot-3 and weighs 190 pounds.

Detectives said the woman was wanted for questioning in the stabbing death of Thomas Goodwin, who was slain after arguing with the woman over a grocery order Goodwin had given her two daughters.

Police said they did not know whether the woman jumped in panic or was attempting suicide.

Girl Scouts Growing Up To Serve Community

BY BETTY ESTES
Growing up happens in the heart and mind of a girl. We can't often see growing up but sometimes can catch a glimpse of it in the words and actions of growing girls.

The Girl Scouts of Pickaway County are growing and growing up in many ways that serve the community. Girl Scouting is an informal educational program, developed around the interests and needs of girls. It is carried out in small groups with adult leadership, inspiring girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service so that they may become happy, responsible citizens.

Girl Scouts in Pickaway County belong to the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council, Inc. which is a member council of the Girl Scouts of the United States and through the national organization, a member of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts which is the largest voluntary organization of women and girls in the free world.

GIRL Scouting is one continuous program open to all girls from the ages of seven through 17 years who accept the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. In the past year the Girl Scout Council in Pickaway County served 717 girls in 33 troops with 169 dedicated adult volunteers.

Camping is an important part of a Girl Scout's life. This last year 372 girls participated in some type of camping program. 163 girls took part in day-camping activities while 174 girls went troop camping and 35 girls went to one or two week sessions at established camps throughout the Seal of Ohio Council area.

Recreation is not the end purpose of Girl Scouting. It is only a means through which girls are helped to learn to work within a democratic system — and to make it work for them; to care enough about other people to develop a commitment to service; to feel a responsibility toward preservation of our natural resources; to attain their own highest potential.

There were many highlights in the program this past year in Pickaway County. One troop was able to take a long-awaited trip to the birthplace of Juliette Gordon Low, the founder of Girl Scouts in U.S.A.

All levels of Girl Scouting — from Brownies to Juniors to Cadettes to Seniors — participated in many service projects this past year. These included a friendship exchange with girls living at the Pickaway County Grays Home; removal of campaign signs from telephone poles, trees, etc.; working as aides in the Juvenile section of the Public Library; community clean up programs in several areas; working in many different ways during Pumpkin Show — furnishing a member of the color guard for parades, carried signs in parades to identify different sections of the parade, provided baby sitting service for adults who were working in booths and in other places during Pumpkin Show; and one group of Senior Scouts tutored a high school drop-out which enabled her to pass tests and to receive her diploma.

During the past year many of the adult volunteers in Pickaway County were honored by the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council, Inc. for their work in the organization. Chief among these was Mrs. Charles Brackett who received a "Ring of Friendship" pin for her many years of dedicated service to girls and to Girl Scouting.

The Girl Scout Organization believes that individual citizens accept a responsibility to contribute their time and their money to provide services needed in a community. Through the Girl Scout Council the community is served with an informal educational program devoted to the character development and civic training of its future citizens. The community can count on the Girl Scouts. Can they count on the community for continued support?

Social Security Benefits Cover Children Over 18

Social Security now extends benefits to children over age 18 if they are going to school full time, Harry Bieber, manager of the Chillicothe Social Security Office advised today.

But certain regulations must be followed to receive the payments. The rules on earning money while receiving benefits are particularly important.

According to Bieber, the basic earnings limitation on most social security beneficiaries is $1680 a year. This same limit is applied on earnings of students who are receiving benefits. Earnings above the limit will cause some loss of benefits.

"However, a student could work during the vacation periods, and still draw full payments for the school year," he stated. "This is because the law permits the payment of benefits for any month in which the individual does not earn over $140. The rule holds true no matter how much the yearly total might be," Bieber said.

This part of the law allows a student who found a good summer job to give up the benefit checks while he is working, with the assurance that the checks will be paid for all months that year in which he does not work, or keeps his earnings under the $140 monthly amount.

Any student who knows that he will earn over $1680 this year should report it as soon as possible. Earnings over the allowable amount cause a progressive loss of benefits. One dollar is deducted for each two dollars earned between $1680 and $2880, and for amounts over that, it is dollar for dollar. An early report during the year with a forecast of earnings, allows the Social Security Administration to make the deductions properly and promptly. This is much better than finding out later that a person has already received benefits that have to be returned.

The Chillicothe Office at 606 Central Center is open from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday (holidays excepted). Anyone in this area is welcome to visit the office whenever they need help or information about social security, or they may obtain assistance by telephoning 775-4950 (614).

Amanda School Board Meets

First session of the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education since the beginning of the 1970-71 school term was held Tuesday with four board members and Superintendent William A. Smith attending.

Enrollment figures for the school district showed $1,437 students attending schools in the Amanda-Clearcreek district. Two of these are tuition students approved during the board meeting.

Dates were scheduled for Booster and Lions Club activities during the school year. On the school agenda is a chicken barbecue Sept. 26, a meeting of the Central Ohio Milk Producers Nov. 14, Band banquet Dec. 7, variety show, April 2 and 3 and an ice cream social June 6.

Mrs. Larry Stoughton and Mrs. Donald Peters were present to request use of storage space in the school for the purpose of providing clothing for children in need. The board approved the request with arrangements to be made with Amanda Elementary Principal Richard Martindale.

Donations from the Lions Club, junior high activity fund and Stoutsville P.T.O. totalling $905 were accepted. The money will be used to cover the cost of blacktopping at the Stoutsville building.

The Amanda board agreed to join the Fairfield County combined boards in a transportation survey. The recommendation was proposed by County Superintendent Robert Kalish.

Discussion was held but no action taken on acoustical work at Stoutsville and on playground monitors for the elementary grades. The need for more water coolers in both buildings was also held under consideration.

Members made a request that citizens of the community refrain from operating automobiles, motorcycles and mini-bikes on school playgrounds.

Also present at the session were Robert Turner, Jack Fausnaugh, Ronald Bates, Paul D. Kraft and clerk Anne Cole.
